A SUGGESTION FOR THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Finding Clears Standard Oil in U. S. Trust Suit

The Standard Oil Company of Indiana and fifty other oil concerns are held not guilty of violating the Sherman anti-trust law by an alleged monopoly of trade, in the report of Master in Chancery Charles Martindale of Indianapolis. The report is expected to be filed in the United States District court in Chicago today.

The findings of Martindale, made public last night at Indianapolis, hold that there is no evidence of an existing conspiracy in restraint of trade, maintenance of a monopoly, price fixing or pooling of patent rights. Dismissal for lack of equity of the suit instituted by the government three years ago was recommended.

Under such circumstances, would have been very unwise if any kind of reasonable settlement could be reached. The contract which settled cracking rights was advantageous to both of the companies and was advantageous to the public because it removed obstacles to the development of the industry and resulted in the production of gasoline instead of production of litigation. There was no restraint of competition between the two companies and there was no agreement relative to either the amount of production or the price at which gasoline could be sold.

The suit was brought by the government in 1924 and because of the importance of the case the Circuit Court of Appeals took original jurisdiction. Master in Chancery Martindale took testimony for two years. A third year was occupied in the writing of his report.

Explains Reasons for Pool. The government contended that the defendant companies had pooled patent rights to the processes for cracking gasoline and had by entering into contracts on these processes violated the Sherman anti-trust law. The master's findings tell of the dispute between the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and the Texas company over the rights of the enormously valuable cracking process and says:

"The companies were confronted with a choice between a settlement and litigation. Litigation would paralyze progress in the industry and the profits and damages which might be recovered in such an action ran into large figures, and would inevitably cause a serious financial loss to one or another of the companies. Litigation,

BOMB DAMAGES OAK LAWN CAFE; WOMAN BLAMED

A bomb was exploded this morning in the front entrance of "The Lawn," a cafe and soft drink parlor, in Oak Lawn, a village southwest of the city. According to the county highway police, the damage was about $100. The front of the two-story brick structure was partly wrecked and all the glass in the building shattered. The family of Max Hense, who lived upstairs, was injured.

The place is owned by Edward Hunt. He told the police he attributed the bombing to the jealousy of a woman with whom he had broken some time ago and who threatened to get revenge. He refused to name the woman. Police said that they knew of no gang connections of Hunt.

'L' Agent Shot to Death by Negro Robber

Michael A. Ford, 50 years old, ticket agent for the elevated lines at the 56th street station, gave his life shortly after 5 o'clock this morning to save the company's funds. He was shot fatally by a Negro robber whom he resisted, and died on the way to the Lakeside hospital without being able to give details of the shooting. No one else was on the station platform at the time.

Two taxicab chauffeurs, Bartolomeo Pajand, 3445 Glen avenue, and Elgie Jones, 3152 South State street, furnished Lieut. Thomas Mangum and his detective bureau squad the only description of the slayer. They said he was a man about 25 years old, rather tall, and bareheaded.

Hears Single Shot Fired. Pajand was driving past the station when he heard a shot ring out and heard a man scream, "I'm shot." Just then a Negro came running down the stairs with a gun in his hand and fled north on Wabash avenue. Pajand hurried up the stairs and found Ford lying just outside his cage, and unable to move. He called the police, who placed the wounded man in an ambulance and started with him to the Lakeside hospital, but he was dead when they reached it.

Police View of Killing. As nearly as the police could reconstruct the slaying, Ford was inside his cage when the Negro appeared, ordered him to throw up his hands and come outside. The agent apparently obeyed the command and when he reached the Negro grappled with him. He received a bullet in the left side just above the heart.

The robber got no money. All the cash was found in piles about the cashier's desk as Ford had it arranged for making change and in the cash drawer. Ford lived at 6852 Woodlawn avenue with a sister. He had been an employee of the elevated lines for 27 years.

FAIL TO RESCUE 25 MEN LOST IN GREAT BLIZZARD

Shelby, Mont., Dec. 4.—Twenty-five men, members of the Hope engineering crew constructing a pipe line from Great Falls to Shelby, were lost in a blizzard seven miles from here late tonight. None of several rescue parties has been able to get more than two miles beyond Shelby. It is impossible to see more than a few feet and the temperature is below zero.

READ COOLIDGE OMEN IN BUTLER CONVENTION TIP

Favors Kansas City; Hint Draft Move.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING. (Chicago Tribune Staff Service.)

Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—(Special.)—Great excitement prevails tonight among the Republican national committeemen assembled in Washington to choose the city in which the national convention is to be held next June.

William M. Butler of Massachusetts, chairman of the committee, has thrown his influence in favor of holding the convention in Kansas City and the impression has been created that he has done so with a view to drafting President Coolidge for renomination. This development has increased the tension of the situation created by the failure of the President, up to date, to make it clear beyond a reasonable doubt whether he would accept renomination, if drafted.

May Dispel Uncertainty. Mr. Coolidge is to receive the national committee at the White House tomorrow afternoon and to make some remarks. The prevailing notion among the Republican leaders is that if the President is determined not to accept renomination he will avail himself of this opportunity to set all doubts at rest.

If he should remain silent, there will be a widespread tendency to infer that he is receptive to conscription. Many Republican leaders, who hitherto have interpreted his "I do not choose to run" statement of Aug. 3 as an unqualified renunciation, confess that their faith will be shaken if the President remains silent on the matter in his address tomorrow.

Chairman Butler never has implied finally to the Coolidge renomination of Aug. 3, and was the first to predict that the President would be drafted. Nor does Chairman Butler look for any statement from the President definitely closing the door to his renomination. No sooner had the President made it known last Tuesday that he would address the national committee tomorrow than Chairman Butler expressed the opinion that Mr. Coolidge would not in those remarks take occasion to construe the word "choose."

It has been known all along that leaders in the "Draft Coolidge" movement have favored Kansas City above all other. Kansas City is in the heart of the corn belt and the Coolidgeites calculate that the drafting of the President in that region would remove from him the curse of his unpopularity in the corn belt for his vote of the McNary-Haugen bill.

Then, too, Kansas City is in that part of the corn belt where the farmers are now fairly prosperous, where Lower is no more popular than Coolidge and where there is little sentiment for Hoover compared with either San Francisco or Detroit, the two chief rivals for the convention.

Consequently, it was all as plain as day to the politicians when they heard that Butler had declared for Kansas City. They were convinced he was aiming at the drafting of Coolidge. They imputed no knowledge of this to the President himself, though they were satisfied that Butler knew whether the President would accept, if drafted.

Seeds Word to Negroes. It leaked out that the committee chairman sent word to the Negro committeemen from the southern states this morning to vote for Kansas City. A dozen or more of the Negroes had pledged themselves to either San Francisco or Detroit but they were given to understand that they must disregard these pledges and vote as the chairman directed.

There appeared to be a well developed fear among the Negro delegates to vote for that city. He denied that he had been asked to make such a suggestion and that they would be thrown off the committee and thrown out of the convention by means of delegate contests.

Butler Admits Giving Order. Mr. Butler admitted that he favors Kansas City and that he had sent a request to the Negro delegates to vote for that city. He denied that he had been asked to make such a suggestion and that they would be thrown off the committee and thrown out of the convention by means of delegate contests.

Workers Meet; Vote to Force Wage Decision

More than 1,000 members of the Street Car Men's union voted unanimously last night to request William D. Mahon, international president of their organization, for approval of a contemplated strike that would tie up all Chicago's electric transportation if put into effect.

Dissatisfaction in the ranks of the union over the delay in arbitration of wage scales, for which arrangements were made last summer, was said to be back of the demands made for a strike. Officials of the union indicated that unless the management of the lines showed a disposition to treat for a new scale at once there was a possibility the strike would be called in a few days.

May Affect 22,000. As the employees of the elevated lines agreed to be governed by any agreement reached by the street car men and their employers, the Chicago Rapid Transit company would be affected by such a walkout and all the 22,000 electric motormen and conductors would cease work together.

Grievances of the men were outlined in talks made by William Quinn, president, and William Taber, secretary of the Carmen's union, at the meeting, which was held in the Ashland auditorium.

Quinn said that a strike was averted last June by the arrival of Mahon from Detroit and his success in getting an agreement to form an arbitration board. The union chose Judge Kichham Scanlan as its representative and the surface lines several lists of ten men each, any of whom would have been acceptable as the third arbitrator. "They wouldn't choose anybody," said Taber. "They still have two lists under consideration. Naturally there's been nothing done about a new scale and the men are getting restless. We went to Mayor Thompson and he tried to get some action for us, but apparently, he failed, too."

Plan General Strike. If Mahon agrees to let the strike be called, a general manifestation will be held, it was stated, although the officials of the local union were empowered last summer to declare a walkout if they saw fit. All the 22,000 workers will be given an opportunity to vote before direct action is taken.

The Chicago City Railways, owners of the north and west side lines, are now in a federal receivership, and some union men expressed the hope that the federal court would step in and order the arbitration agreement to be carried out.

MRS. ROSENWALD ILL IN HOSPITAL REPORTED "FAIR"

Mrs. Julius Rosenwald, wife of Julius Rosenwald, millionaire philanthropist and head of Sears, Roebuck & Co., was reported last night to be recovering at the Michael Reese hospital from two serious intestinal operations she underwent within the last three weeks.

The operations were performed by Dr. Alfred A. Strauss. Her condition is "fair," it was said at the hospital. Mrs. Rosenwald will probably be forced to remain at the hospital until after the Christmas holidays.

LINDY FLIES 27,400 MILES BEFORE PLANE IS IN AN ACCIDENT

Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., Dec. 5.—(U.P.)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his Spirit of St. Louis figured in a minor accident at Teterboro airport today. The colonel was uninjured. The only damage to the plane was a bent propeller.

Lindbergh was landing after a test flight when one of the wheels struck a rut. The nose of the ship tilted, bending the metal propeller. The accident was the first in which the famous "we" of aviation had figured since Lindbergh hopped off for Paris last May. Estimates have placed his flying mileage at the Spirit of St. Louis at 27,400 since he took off from Roosevelt field May 20. This included the trans-Atlantic flight, the distance traveled in Europe and the tour of the United States when he flew 22,350 miles.

FIGHT FOR SEAT SCHEDULED FOR CLIMAX TODAY

Norris Leads Fight for Disbarment.

Democrats Free Agents

Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—(Special.)—The Democratic senators in a conference decided that the Vane and Smith cases should not be considered a party issue. Accordingly, while most of the Democrats will vote against Vane and Smith, those who do not do so will not be considered as acting contrary to a party policy.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT. (Chicago Tribune Staff Service.)

Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—(Special.)—The United States senate today told Frank L. Smith, Republican senator-elect from Illinois, and William S. Vane, Republican senator-elect from Pennsylvania, to "stand aside" when they appeared in the chamber at noon today to take the oath of office. It was the opening of the Seventieth congress.

"We will," the senators agreed with out a dissenting voice, "take up the question of your right to sit among us after the message of the President of the United States has been read to us tomorrow."

Smith, 40 years old, married, disconsolate, and more than his sixty years, took his seat standing under the star-dimmed clock at the head of the great aisles of the august chamber. Vane took his sitting down and imperceptibly. Both men were born in the same year—1867—and precisely a month apart.

The senate leaders decided in private conference after today's thirty-seven minute senate sitting to make it a long-drawn-out agony for the Dwight banker and farmer and the Philadelphia politician.

Norris Leads for Disbarment. Today Senator George Norris, rebel Republican from Nebraska, on whom his colleague, Robinson of Arkansas, once publicly fixed the nickname, "Grumbling George," offered a resolution summarily and instantly refusing Smith and Vane membership in the senate. Tomorrow, after Mr. Coolidge's message has been read, there will be offered, as a separate vote, a resolution, a resolution that the accused men be allowed to take the oath of office and their seats—and that the charges against them of corrupt election practices be referred to the committee on privileges and elections.

Touch Off Fireworks Today. Then the excitement with which the air was charged today with burst. Smith's Illinois colleague, Senator Danaher, who stood at his left, was the star dimpled clock during this noon's ordeal, will lead off with a speech—already typed—in which he will support Smith's right to take the oath at once and to all his seat pending an investigation of the charges against him by the privileges and elections committee and the senate's decision on the findings of that committee. Reed of Pennsylvania will perform in the same defensive strain in behalf of Vane.

This oratory will bring the terrible Reed of Missouri into combat, as well as the less dramatic but equally searching Walsh of Montana if his infected eye becomes well enough to permit his appearance in the chamber. Reed of Pennsylvania, Reed of Missouri and Walsh of Montana are capacious speakers who love to supplement their words with extensive documentation. In short, it is expected that the debate on Smith and Vane will run a week or longer.

House Also Organizes. Simultaneously at the noon hour of this perfect Washington winter day—bright sunshine and mild, invigorating air—the house of representatives of the Seventieth congress in the annual of the republic was joyfully getting itself organized for work.

And much handshaking of commitments between opposition leaders and by a majority of 34, Nicholas Longworth of Ohio was reflected speaker of the house. The total vote was 47, Longworth receiving 23, and the minority leader, Philip C. Garrett of Tennessee, 18.

Announcement of the vote brought ringing acclamations from both sides of the house, and the speaker's wife, Alice Roosevelt Longworth, pale and infant, smiled down on him from the east gallery when a formidable committee escorted him, beaming Nicholas to the marble date while the members stood and cheered.

With the same cheerfulness with which the house had chosen Nicholas the Bland to gavel it into relative decorum for the next two years, it decided by acclamation that James M. Beck, successor to Vane's seat in the house, should take the oath of office and the seat pending an investigation of his right to the seat by the elections committee. So Beck, who is a cheery, sprightly, smooth shaven little man, and perhaps the foremost authority in the realm on the constitution, meekly took the oath.

The elections committee may not report on his case for nearly two years.

Residence in Dispute.

The taint on Beck's election, lies in what his opponents declare to have been such a suspiciously belated acquiescence of a Philadelphia residence that it amounts to a reversion to the old and extremely malodorous rotten borough system which disgraced the house of commons in the eighteenth century. "I object," said Minority Leader Garrett, when Beck marched up the aisle at 1:40 o'clock to be sworn in with the rest of the Pennsylvania delegation, "to the administration of the oath to James M. Beck on the ground of eligibility, as there is a question as to his residence. He has lived in New York, New Jersey and in Washington. It is asserted that only last spring did he register in Philadelphia and that the apartment he then took has been seldom if ever occupied by him."

Mr. Garrett felt that the matter of this apparently hasty residence demanded looking into and that meanwhile Mr. Beck should not be allowed the privileges of the floor of the house.

Beck's Claim Comes Home.

So Mr. Beck, smiling and nodding, stood aside.

Mr. Smith (Rep., N. Y.), chairman of the rules committee, who was directing the championship of Beck's right to take the oath, ventured the assertion that so far as he knew, though he had not looked much into the matter, the house had never refused a member that right pending an investigation by the elections committee.

The venture was a rash one.

"It brought the rotund Mr. Berger of Wisconsin, the only socialist in the house, bounding to his feet with the remark:

"It happened to me! It happened to me! This is one of the chickens that is coming home to roost."

Amid the relishing laughter of one and all Mr. Berger bounced back.

Congress Will Censure.

Mr. Garrett's contentions and objections were finally voted down by 143 to 137 and Mr. Beck's motion that Mr. Beck be permitted to take the oath was carried by acclamation.

But there will be an investigation. Mr. Garrett will insist upon that, and will be the more insistent because Beck is defender of Smith and Vane.

All this was accomplished amid the noisy banquets of schoolboys meeting for the first time after vacation. During the calling of the roll on the re-election of Longworth, the clerk of the house, William Tyler Page, who was presiding, shouted:

"The tellers are unable to hear the count. . . . Gentlemen will please cease conversation and, as Speaker Reed once said, 'continue to cease.'"

Then, thump, thump, thump of the gavel. In the senate Dawes taps with his.

Tributes to Longworth.

Butler-Smedley's father—the mentor of the house, administered the oath to Longworth, and the night was reaching—the best, plain, dressed old man standing with upraised hand before natty Nicholas in his smart cutaway on the lofty dais.

Minority Leader Garrett's speech in which he said of Longworth's first term as speaker, these curiously words:

"In the school of experience we have learned that the predictions of two years ago about our speaker have been vindicated and verified. His ability, firmness and fairness were demonstrated, and we rest secure in the assurance that as we labor here together we shall have in this great place one thoroughly equipped by intellect, by character, and by training for the high and arduous labors he has been chosen to perform."

Exchange of Compliments.

Nicholas the Bland responded with this:

"In more than twenty-five years of public life I have known, often intimately, all the outstanding public men of the period, but among them all I have never known a finer character than Fland Garrett, student, scholar, defender of the first order, statesman, master unexcelled in the use of the English language, patriot, a gentleman in all that fine old English word implies."

And Nicholas called the membership "one of the great governmental edifices of the world, second in dignity, importance, power and influence only to the presidency. . . . And I would

TRADITION VIOLATED WHEN MISSISSIPPIAN ESCORTS BROOKHART

Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—(AP)—Senate tradition was broken today when Senator Brookhart (Rep., Iowa), was escorted to the Vice President's desk to receive the oath of office by a senator other than from his state.

Senator Stephens (Dem., Miss.), who led the fight to seat Senator Brookhart in the contest against him last session, accompanied Senator Brookhart.

Senator Stock (Dem., Iowa), who guided the seat then held by Brookhart in that contest, was in the chamber. All other newly elected senators were escorted to the Vice President by their state colleagues.

"I rather be," he added, "speaker of the house of representatives than hold any other office in the gift of the American people."

Prolonged cheering.

By contrast, the senate proceedings, 250 paces away, were tragic. Frank Smith's aspect was the tragedy. Those who used to visit with the handsome, vigorous, suave Frank Smith in the Dutch room of the old Leland in Springfield two years ago would hardly have recognized him today. At least he hardly did. His face was worn and unsmiling. He looks ill. His dark gray coat hung on him in loose folds. He peered disconsolately through his spectacles at nothing.

This noon's ordeal must have been a bitter experience. The proceedings were brief and quiet but key. Their grimness—ghostliness it would be to a sensitive soul—lay in the slow, formal and pitilessly audible recital, from Norris' resolution to bar Smith, of the accusations made against Smith. Crockett, reading clerk of the senate, read those accusations, and Crockett is always pitilessly audible.

Resolution Cuts Like Whip.

The words of Norris' resolution struck like blows in the silent chamber, and each accusation was accompanied by the words, "the said Frank L. Smith," as if the thin, spectacled man standing at the head of the aisle were a criminal in the dock.

"Acts contrary to sound public policy," thundered Crockett as he swept on in the reading of the reasons which Norris' resolution gave for barring Smith. "Harmed to the dignity and honor of the senate, dangerous to the perpetuity of free government, and tainting with fraud and corruption the credentials for a seat in the senate presented by the said Frank L. Smith."

The resolution closed with the demand that, owing to "the acceptance and expenditures of the various sums of money advanced in behalf of the candidacy of the said Frank L. Smith," he be declared "not entitled to take the oath of office and not entitled to membership in the senate of the United States."

Vane in Partial Seclusion.

Then Vane got the same dose in the same words, but Vane did not take it from the head of the aisle, whether frail Smith had marched with Denoon, but from a rear seat on the Republican side of the chamber.

After the reading of the resolution, which Norris had sent up to Dawes with the ominous words, "Mr. President, I rise to a question of the highest privilege," and after he had heard the announcement of Senator Curtis of Kansas, majority leader of the senate, that the arrangement by unanimous consent was that he must "stand aside" until the senate had heard Coolidge's message tomorrow, Smith returned to a seat in a rear row near Vane.

He smiled weakly at a senator who greeted him as he passed along. He drummed with right hand fingers on the arm of his chair. He looked through his spectacles at nothing, and a thousand pairs of eyes from the full galleries, watched with Washington's sensation loving eyes every slightest movement he made.

JOB WAIT WHILE G. O. P. SEEKS TO PACIFY RADICALS

Meet Today to Angle for Support on Committees.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—(Special).—Controversies over committee assignments blocked the completion of organization in both houses today. A conference of all Republican senators was called for tomorrow morning, at which time it is expected that satisfactory assurances will be given to the radicals whose votes are needed for the committee assignments.

Senator Curtis (Rep., Kan.), majority leader, informed the five radicals, who submitted a demand for an agreement for final action on three legislative measures at this session, that he will place the proposal before tomorrow's Republican conference. The three measures were the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, a bill to limit the use of injunctions in labor cases, and a resolution for an investigation of American policy in Central America.

Nye Specifies Demand.

While the radicals did not couple with their legislative program any demands for committee assignments, the two are regarded as tied up together. A satisfactory agreement for the consideration of the three legislative

MEDICAL SOCIETY OUTLAW DOCTOR ECONOMIC UNION

Isy Braverman's brotherhood of Doctors, the Chicago Physicians' and Surgeons' Economic league, has been outlawed in a resolution adopted by the Chicago Medical society, it became known last night.

"It is believed that our own organization, the Chicago Medical society, is better able to discuss and analyze economic questions than a lay managed organization," the resolution reads.

The advertised function of Braverman's union is to cure the physician's financial ills, particularly by taking over the collection of his unpaid bills for a 25 per cent commission. There is a $5 membership and $5 monthly fee.

When the existence of the league was discovered the Chicago Medical society undertook an investigation and the resolution urging members of the society to refrain from joining the league was adopted shortly afterwards.

100 Leave to Celebrate Yale Holidays in Italy

A party of about 100 Italian board for their home land to celebrate the Christmas holidays, left Chicago last night for New York, where they will board a steamer for Italy. Thomas Serfatelli, accompanied the group east.

CROWE URGES FIGHT ON CRIME WITH RELIGION

Lack of religious training of the youth is one of the main factors in Chicago crime, State's Attorney Robert H. Crowe asserted yesterday in a speech at a luncheon of the Evanston Chamber of Commerce.

"We have two main types of criminals," he said. "One is the rickshaw, the mature man who is ruthless in his pursuit of money and power. The other is the youth of 10 or 14 years old. Youthful crime would be lessened if parents gave their children religious education."

The state's attorney said that the public law enforcement is more effective when the youth is trained in religious principles.

Raising of Funds for Mayor Stopped

Stimulation among school students by Clive Rogers of that group to purchase a gift to the mayor was stopped yesterday by the police. The group was a high school girls' group, and several boys opposed to the gift.

LET RIDDLED WALL BARES VENGEANCE PLOT

Wounded Prisoners Held for Death Battle.

A pattern of bullet holes in a wall at the Purdy cafe, 1021 North State street, told a story to police investigators last night. It supplied the missing link of evidence necessary to substantiate a theory that murder, in the form of robbery, was in the minds of a gang of eight who raided the cafe at 2 o'clock Monday morning.

One man was killed and eight persons were wounded in the gun battle between the gang and five policemen.

Four men were looked on as charge leaders and assault with intent to kill. The appearance of the men was a result of the investigation.

Of the prisoners were wounded in the gun battle. Three other persons, a policeman, an entertainer, and a guest were in hospitals with bullet wounds.

Murder Plot Traced.

Police first began to suspect that the gang was not an ordinary holdup when some of the details of the shooting. They became certain last night that the appearance of the men was a gesture of revenge and that their purpose was to kill David Purdy, owner of the cafe, and Ben Silverman, 39 years old, alleged leader of the gang. A side issue was to get a good haul from the prisoners in the place.

Purdy and Silverman were sitting at a table in the rear of the cafe when the bandits entered, brandishing a shotgun, and two men behind him with automatic rifles pointed to the crowd to keep their hands in the air. But no attempt was made to collect money or gems.

Police Out Gunner.

When, according to evidence gathered, Meyer Golan, one of the members of the gang who had been sitting at a table posing as a guest, suddenly arose and pointed to the table where Purdy and Silverman sat. "There they are!" he shouted. And immediately he was sprayed in the chest and back. He is in a serious condition.

Reporting the cafe last night, police found no evidence to support the testimony. There were bullet holes in all four walls, but over the table of Purdy and Silverman were the marks of forty or fifty bullets grouped together.

Police Threat Holdup.

Police believe that the gang, after seeing vengeance, intended to rob the cafe, but the plan was upset by the arrival of the five policemen, off duty, in the place. Policemen Charles Cohen pulled his wife beneath a table and then fired at the bandit leader. It was in the room where the bandits entered. For other policemen rushed into the room jerked out their revolvers and poured bullets into the group of holdups.

The men were wounded by stray bullets. Harry Smith, a waiter, was killed as he ran down to the Rush street entrance to call police. Two of the bandits leaped into a machine and escaped, leaving a car which sped off in the street.

Policemen Cohen and Policemen John Fred, Leslie Larson, James J. Jones, and Herman Dorf, who participated in the battle, were complimented by Chief of Police Hughes. They will be given extra compensation, and promotions will be in order, he said.

Silverman and Golan were held by the police in connection with the murder of four others. They were Archie Schaeffer, 25, of 1113 North Monticello avenue; Edward Cummings, 25, of 127 South Sacramento boulevard; Rocco Rotuna, 28, alias Rocky Joyce, 315 North Rockwell street, a former prize fighter, and William H. Malone, 23, of 58 East Walton place.

Schaeffer, Cummings, Rotuna, and Malone are all wounded. Policemen Cohen is in a hospital as the result of bullet wounds.

The two women shot are Miss June Griffin, 25 years old, 1035 North Wood street, a cafe entertainer, wounded in the left side and right arm, and Miss Fanny Hillman, 3111 Douglas boulevard, a patron, shot in the right arm.

Witnesses Show Panic.

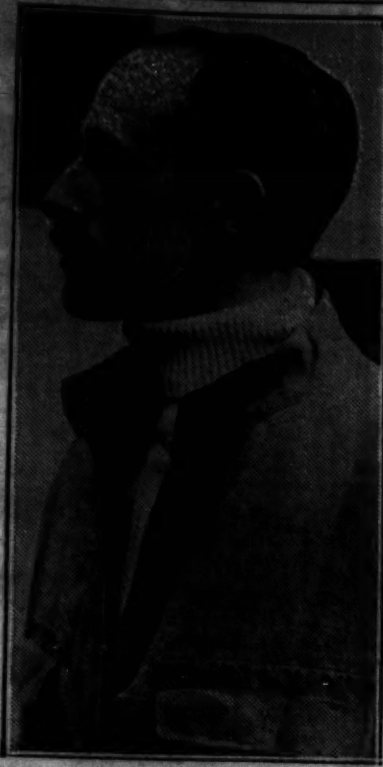

Twelve visibly frightened witnesses at an inquest over the body of Harry Smith insisted that they would be unable to identify any of the bandits. Check girls, entertainers, porters, waiters and Panitzky, the cafe owner, said "their backs were turned," or that they ran out when the bandits entered.

Panitzky was so frightened when placed on the witness stand that he gulped, stuttered and could not speak. Finally he managed to say that he dropped beneath a table when he saw the first of the bandits.

Panitzky was made a target for the gang's bullets because he was suspected of tipping off the police to the haunts of various gangsters, it was said.

Silverman was marked for death for much the same reason, police declared.

BODY FOUND

COUNT JACQUES DE LESSEPS.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Dec. 5.—The body of an aviator washed ashore at Clam Bank Cove, Port au Port Peninsula, on the west coast of Newfoundland, was identified today as that of Count Jacques de Lesseps. Count de Lesseps and his mechanic have been missing since Oct. 13, when they started from Gaspé for Val Brillant, eastern Quebec. His airplane was found a few days later in the St. Lawrence river, near Matane. Papers and medals found on the body identified it. The body was in a good state of preservation, only exposed parts of the hands and face being disfigured.

Participated in the battle, were complimented by Chief of Police Hughes. They will be given extra compensation, and promotions will be in order, he said.

CHICAGO FINDS ITS MEN USING POWDER PUFFS

Hair Oils, Lip Creams and Varied Rouge.

Chicago men may sneer at the perfume men of Paris, but a survey of shops dealing in cosmetics in their own virile town reveals that not all that glitters is sold to the women. Brilliantine, stay-brushed, and whatever else there is to make hair glossy and behave, are sold almost exclusively to men in loop drug stores.

Powders—not merely talcums—are sold to men along with pomades for the lips—in color. The men have complained that white shows on the lips, and in order to prevent chapping and dryness, have taken to colored pomades, in surprising numbers.

Here is a question.

It is the men also, according to dealers, who buy the expensive perfumes. Maybe they are, as they say, buying them for their wives or sweethearts but they also buy inexpensive toilet waters, scented soaps, and perfumed bath salts. Surely no gentleman, shopkeepers say, "would offer these to a lady as a token of his esteem."

Loop branches of shops like Walgreen's, Economical, Huck & Raynor's, report that men buy more toilet water than women do. It is only occasionally, however, that they buy rouge, in the loop.

On the near north side, however, drug store dealers say more business is done in cosmetics with the men than with women.

Powdering Men Particular.

"Fussy young men come in here and select their make-up," said a druggist whose store is on State street south of the river. "They take twice as long as the girls do to make their selection. They fuss about the powder puffs, and they fuss about the mascara brushes."

But even in loop hotels and office buildings a canvass shows that go-getters of the executive type have no contempt for pulchritude in themselves if they can achieve it without being too obvious. Large staffs of manicurists are busy in those establishments giving these high-powered salesmen, executives and others their daily manicure, while the shops do a handsome business with the large number of men who have enough time to linger an hour or more for the "three S's" and extra. The three S's are shampoo, shave and shine and the extra are all manner of special facial massages, including mud packs and steam-towel treatments.

BETTER DISPOSAL OF PETS PLANNED IN LAKE FOREST

When the Lake Forest council passes its new ordinance on garbage disposal there will be a provision against the quaint old custom of cremating cats and dogs, slain by the village poundmaster, in the furnace of the city's downtown heating plant.

It was agreed at a council meeting last night that the bodies were effectively consumed in the furnace, but it was agreed also that the odor of burning cats was no fit advertisement for a community as exclusive as Lake Forest. So the cremations will take place at the new garbage incinerator that has just been erected.

Hitherto garbage had been collected by contractors who sold it to the owners of swine living west of the city.

STAR RISES

MISS KATHRYN WITWER.

DREAMS OF GARY
GIRL TO CLIMAX IN OPERA DEBUT

From stenographer to grand opera singer, the life ambition of Kathryn Witwer, daughter of a Gary (Ind.) locomotive hooter, will be realized next Friday evening when she makes her debut at the Chicago Civic Opera in the principal soprano role of the opera "Carmen."

Instant upon learning to sing, Miss Witwer pounded away at her type writer in return for her vocal instruction. Her progress was such that she won several contests and finally achieved recognition as possessing an unusual soprano voice in the contest conducted last April by the National Federation of Music Clubs.

Miss Witwer's ability so impressed the federation that she was granted an audition for the Chicago Civic Opera. Then followed her selection to fill the role of Micaela in the Bizet opera, where she will sing opposite Mary Garden.

During the last three years Miss Witwer has been a soloist at the First Church of Christian Science, 4017 Draxel boulevard, and assistant to Richard De Young in the Fine Arts building. She resides at 5223 Harper avenue.

OFFERS $100,000 FOR A FRESH AIR RESORT FOR KIDS

F. J. Lewis Writes to the South Park Board.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

F. J. Lewis, a contributor to local charities for many years, has offered $100,000 to the south park commission for two fresh air and sunlight sanctuaries to be constructed on the park extensions in Lake Michigan to aid overworked and ailing mothers and undernourished and sick babies.

Mr. Lewis also urges "the buildings to be of pleasing design and architectural merit." His letter to President Edward J. Kelly of the south park commission favored "one in Calumet park, South Chicago, and another at 31st street or 39th street."

Mr. Lewis also wants such equipment that ultra-violet shall be available. "May I request the attitude of your board on this proposal in a relatively short time," he adds, "because I believe the need for such sanctuaries is so urgent that they should be in operation early in 1938."

Mr. Lewis is head of the F. J. Lewis Manufacturing company, 2505-2600 South Robey street.

Mr. Lewis, however, does not want buildings that will be in any crasse way a monumental memory. Until the building burned down Jackson park had a sanitarium. For many years the Daily News has maintained one in Lincoln park. Mr. Lewis had an extensive investigation made and is certain there is urgent need now for like institutions on the south side.

His reports show that his $100,000 will provide facilities for a little more than half of the most pressing cases.

Francis, who recently resigned as chief of staff of the Speedway hospital for world war veterans in Maywood. He formerly was chief of staff of the veterans' bureau in Washington, D. C.

GORMAN CALLED BACK TO STAND IN McANDREW TRIAL

John J. Gorman, Mayor Thompson's chief investigator of school history books tomorrow will resume his testimony before the board of education in the trial of Superintendent William McAndrew, according to the board's attorney, Frank S. Righelmer.

Mr. Gorman expects to reveal pro-British propaganda in five or six textbooks as yet not delivered into by witnesses before the board.

Others who are scheduled to testify against McAndrew are Capt. William J. Grace and John V. Glinley, members of the Citizens Patriotic society.

Mr. Righelmer stated that Attorney James Todd would proceed on the insubordination charges against McAndrew after these witnesses are heard.

WIDOW CRIES NEGROES SLEW DR. LILLIENDAHL

Swears She Fainted as Robbers Shot Him.

St. Louis, N. J., Dec. 5.—(Special.)—In a voice that was sometimes flat and often broken by sobs, Margaret Lillendahl told the witness stand today that Negro robbers murdered her husband, Dr. William Lillendahl, in Great Swamp lake last Sept. 15.

As the pale faced widow looked first at Justice Campbell and then at the jurors, Willis Beach, the man on trial with her for the murder, kept his eyes averted. Never once did their eyes meet, not even when she first broke into sobs as she told the court that her husband gave her the morning of the murder, four bills folded one way and one the other.

Told Not to Resist Robbers.
Again she wept when she said her husband had told her not to resist robbers, because her life was "worth more than anything in the world." Her veiled head fell forward as she sobbed once more as she described how she heard the Negro fire a shot and fell unconscious.

This time Judge Campbell ordered a five minute recess and John McGraw, a defense detective, took advantage of the absence of the judge and the jury to whisper to Mrs. Lillendahl, S. Cameron Hinkle, prosecuting attorney, who had not offered a single objection to Robert H. McCarter's examination of Mrs. Lillendahl, "shoulder."

Get out of here. That is the most outrageous thing I ever have seen in court."

No protest was made to the judge, however.

No More Romantic Figure.

Mrs. Lillendahl was no more romantic a figure than the man who was Willis Beach. She felt the gravity of her situation more deeply, however, and only once did she manage to smile. That was when she said that once he sat in her car with her with his arm across the back of her seat, but not around her.

The widow was wary and cautious in cross-examination by Mr. Hinkle. It presented a sharp contrast to the glib, flowing story she told in the morning as the woman hesitated and fumbled with contradictions in details of her relations with Beach before the murder.

Neighbors whose names she didn't know carried tales about her to her husband, she said.

Couldn't Explain Actions.

She couldn't explain why she didn't stop her car, leaving the main road, when the Negroes took her up, although she said "anybody else would have done as I did."

But there was one question she could not answer. That was "Why couldn't you have told Beach your husband was better or worse instead of writing to him?"

"It wasn't my way," she said finally after Mr. Hinkle waited nearly four minutes for her reply.

The gist of her story was the same version of the killing that she had given before. It was packed with such little details as the doctor's last words, his comment on the scenery they were passing through on their last ride together and on only one detail was she vague. She could no more describe the Negro who held her up now than she previously could. The murder itself, up until the time she fainted on hearing the fatal shots, she described in sufficient detail.

Bleaker on Running Board.

"There was one man on the running board of the car and another beside the dash with a pistol in his hand," she testified. "Whether I drove the car off the road at their order or whether the man on my side took the wheel I am not sure, but the car was in the lake, the Negro grabbed my dress and started pulling me out of the car and then I heard a shot."

"I fainted and as I was coming to I heard some one say: 'Beat it, bo.'"

ALDERMEN FEEL CASH PINCH—ASK STRETCH IN REVENUE ESTIMATE

The council finance committee voted yesterday to ask City Controller Charles C. Fitzmorris to appear before it with a view of stretching his estimates of prospective revenues available for the 1928 budget.

If the committee stays within Mr. Fitzmorris' estimates, it will have less money than last year, according to Chairman John S. Clark (30th). There will not be an extra cent for new firemen, new policemen, salary increases, or any other new activity.

The aldermen want to question Mr. Fitzmorris in particular about his estimate that only $300,000,000 will be added to tax valuations through the quadrupling assessments. "There is already a $300,000,000 increase in tax valuations on the assessors' books," said Ald. Jacob Arvey (24th), "and the board of review will not cut it below $300,000,000."

Each $100,000,000 increase in tax valuations adds about $1,000,000 to the city's revenue. Mr. Fitzmorris estimates the 1928 revenue at $58,300,000, whereas the various department heads are asking for more than $57,000,000.

The committee deferred final action until Wednesday upon a request from Chief of Police Hughes for an extra $300,000 on the new Central Police station at 15th and State streets. One-third of this amount, he plans to use for a woman's court, and detention home on the 13th floor of the building.

She stumbled to the road, hair awry, clothes in disarray, to summon help, she said. Several cars passed her by before one stopped to summon the police. Such was her version of the murder.

It was what she had been expected to say, but so one expected her to tell it with such conviction. Mr. McCarter let her tell the story with very few suggestions from him.

On Stand for 2 Hours.

It was not until the closing moment in her direct examination after two hours on the witness stand that Mrs.

WIFE AND EX-WIFE FACE EACH OTHER IN COURT TODAY

The present wife and the former wife of Samuel Rubin, former Milwaukee alderman, will face each other today before a jury in Circuit Judge John R. Cagerty's courtroom. Mrs. Libby Rubin, the ex-wife, is suing her husband, Mrs. Bertha Vinograd Rubin, for $50,000 on a charge of alienation of affections.

The death of the defendant's former husband, Oscar Vinograd, will figure in testimony, according to Attorney Irving G. Sasso, representing the plaintiff. Mr. Vinograd, a cousin of the plaintiff, was killed by an explosion two years ago as he was starting a fire in the furnace of his home.

The second Mrs. Rubin, represented by Attorney Benjamin B. Davis, contends that the plaintiff signed a release in consideration of $500 for any claim she might have against the defendant.

"I had no secrets from my husband," she declared.

Mrs. Lillendahl will resume the stand tomorrow, to undergo further cross-examination and re-direct.

MACKENZIE KING
CALLS CANADIAN
SEAWAY PARLEY

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 5.—The feeling in Canada that the King government intends to make the international seaway project an item of major discussion at the approaching session of the house of commons apparently was confirmed today when Premier Mackenzie King summoned the Canadian advisory committee to prepare to meet a subcommittee of the cabinet early in January. The premier's summons followed immediately upon receipt by the government of the long awaited engineers' appendices to the original waterways report. Copies of these appendices, comprising in the main technical engineering data, are being distributed to advisory committee engineers in preparation for January's conference.

WIFE ACCEPTS HIS DARE TO TEST BLOOD OF BABY

A blood test to determine the paternity of a baby was agreed upon yesterday before Superior Judge Joseph Sabath in the divorce litigation of Mrs. Evelyn Halpin, 1330 South Elmhurst avenue, and Thomas Halpin, 134 South Elmwood avenue.

The wife came into court seeking temporary alimony for the support of herself and her child, Colleen Evelyn, 1 year old. The husband denied he was the father of the girl. He declared that a test of the baby's blood and his would prove his contention.

"There must be a test for the little girl's sake, now that he has made such a charge," Mrs. Halpin interposed when the judge indicated his reluctance to comply with the husband's wish.

A laboratory was agreed upon and the alimony motion was continued until Monday, when the court will receive a report on the blood analysis.

CHRISTMAS WILL BRING PAROLEES TO 104 AT JOLIE

Christmas day will find 104 men now confined in the Joliet penitentiary at home with their families. Orders for their release this month were forwarded to the prison authorities yesterday by the state board of pardons and paroles.

These parolees are the first that have been issued by the board since last April, and all the men involved are said to have served their minimum sentences. In a few of the cases releases were scheduled for January and February, but the board hastened the date as the prisoners could be home for the holidays.

Hinton G. Chidough, chairman of the pardon board, said there was no chance for Jack Durand, foster son of Scott Durand, wealthy resident of Lake Bluff, to get out until he has served at least thirty months of his sentence for larceny. A petition on his behalf has been denied.

SINCLAIR LOSES FIRST TILT IN CONTEMPT CASE

Judge Overrules One Motion to Dismiss.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 4.—(Special.)—Harry F. Sinclair and his five alleged co-conspirators in the Teapot case, who were indicted by the grand jury at the outset of their contempt case, when Justice Frederick L. Siddons challenged the first contention advanced by their counsel in support of a motion for dismissal of the proceedings.

Frankly admitting that Burns agents and detectives were employed to shadow the Teapot jurors, Sinclair, in a formal answer to the contempt rule, denied the surveillance as within his rights and charged it was necessary because he has been a target of a campaign of persecution "initiated, carried and nurtured by the conspiracy of the United States."

No Juror Approached. Sinclair's answer, as well as those filed in behalf of his chief aide, Henry Mason Day, vice president of the Sinclair Exploration company, and William Clark, of Chicago, in support of the contempt rule, were dismissed on the ground that it has not been shown that any member of the jury had been actually approached. Elaborating on this latter theory, Daniel Thew Wright, former associate justice of the district supreme court and attorney for Day, in opening for the defense, argued that unless a juror is actually approached or "is convinced that he is under surveillance," there can be no obstruction of justice and no ground for contempt proceedings.

Justice Siddons interrupted Wright to assert that the court did not agree with that view and to cite a recent opinion of the United States Supreme court to the effect that "the reasonable tendency of the acts done is the test" which should be applied in contempt cases. Wright was plainly nonplussed, and declared he would argue the point further tomorrow.

Burns Enters Denials. William J. Burns, head of the Burns agency, and his son, W. Sherman Burns, who were cited with Sinclair, Day and Clark, joined Sinclair in vigorous denial of any knowledge of the searching investigation to which the Burns operatives subjected members of the Teapot jury.

Charles L. Vietsch, manager of the Baltimore branch of the Burns agency, who was cited because he is alleged to have brought $1,500 into Washington to Charles Buddy, the Burns field manager in charge of the shadowing operation, asserted in his answer that the money was intended to pay the detective salaries and was used for no other purpose.

In his answer, asserted that Clark was accused of having acted as a liaison between the shadowing party and the jury. He denied the employment of the detective and was not assigned to supervise their activities. Clark, in a separate answer, denied any knowledge of the alleged jury tampering until he was summoned as a witness before the grand jury.

H. S. GIRL ADMITS AIDING YOUTH IN 50 AUTO THEFTS

The admission of a 19 year old Englewood high school girl that she aided her male companion in the theft of fifty automobiles in recent months resulted yesterday in her being held by Judge Herbert Immerhausen, sitting in the Stockyards court, in bonds of $40,000. The girl is Mercedes Kemp, 7230 Hamilton avenue.

Ray Feager, 21, of 624 West 46th street, with whom Miss Kemp was arrested last Thursday as they sought to abandon a stolen machine, was also bound over for a hearing on Dec. 13. Three purchasers of stolen cars pointed out Feager as the salesman, police said.

"I don't know just how many we took, but it must have been over fifty," the girl admitted casually.

"Once we were fired on about thirty times by police whom we outdistanced as I stepped on the gas."

GUY HUSTON IS SENTENCED TO 9 YEARS IN PRISON

Chicago Financier Guilty of Land Bank Frauds.

Mankato, Minn., Dec. 5.—(AP)—Nine years in the Leavenworth penitentiary and a $11,000 fine was the sentence imposed today on Guy Huston, New York and Chicago financier, for his part as fiscal agent in the allegedly illegal activities of the Southern Minnesota Joint Stock Land bank.

Huston, who also was connected with similar banks in other states, was convicted late Saturday night with W. H. Gold of Miami, Fla., former president of the bank. Gold was given a minimum sentence of a fine of $1,000 when the jury recommended the "utter leniency" in his case. Three other defendants were acquitted.

A sixty day stay of execution was granted by Federal Judge William A. Cart, who presided at the seven weeks' trial, to enable the convicted men to perfect appeals. Gold, who was sentenced Saturday night, declared he would go to jail before he would pay the fine. The three found not guilty were F. E. Huston, brother of the convicted man and also a former fiscal agent of the bank, and Donald and Glen Gold, sons of W. H. Gold, former vice presidents.

Convictions were obtained on indictments returned after more than a year's investigation of the bank, then located at Redwood Falls, and the charges were conspiracy to defraud and use of the mails for fraudulent purposes.

FATHER IS GUILTY OF KILLING BABY; GIVEN 16 YEARS

CRIMINAL COURT. Ray Foster and David Wilson, lawyers, sentenced to one year in the house of correction by Judge Emanuel Eiler. Clarence Ross, robbery, sentenced to one to twenty years in the penitentiary by Judge Harry B. Miller. Charles Pease, larceny, sentenced to one year in the house of correction by Judge John S. McDermott.

William Gieschell, 30 years old, was found guilty last night by a jury in Judge Stanley Karkowski's court of the murder of his 3 year old daughter, Elaine, and his punishment fixed at sixteen years in the penitentiary.

"Jurymen, is that the best you could do?" cried Mrs. Hermine Gieschell, who was stabbed and seriously wounded by her husband just before he killed their child. The judge ordered her removed from the courtroom. Mrs. Gieschell wished to take the stand against the killer, but, under the ancient rule that a wife cannot testify for or against a husband in criminal proceedings, was barred.

Gieschell, whose attorneys offered a plea of temporary insanity, took the stand in his own behalf during the trial and testified that he did not remember killing the child, stabbing his wife, or attempting to commit suicide. The state did not ask a death penalty directly, requesting the jurors to make the punishment fit the crime.

vice. There for a long time Capone and Johnny Torrio, his partner who broke him into the game, made a headquarters from which to direct their vice and booze and gambling traffic. "Chicago is a city of 75,000 people, and the cleanest burg in the U. S. A.," declared Capone, forcefully. "There's only one gambling house in the whole town, and not a single so-called vice den."

To Call Dillon's Killers

Frank (Forky) Dillon, and his brother, Edward Dillon, who surrendered to the police yesterday, ending a four day search, will be charged today with the murder of Fred A. Drullard, electrical engineer shot to death on Friday, it was announced last night by the police.

Although witnesses to the crime failed to identify either of the brothers as the men who committed the murder, the police decided to hold them on the murder charge to forestall their release on writs of habeas corpus. The automobile used by the killers was wrecked against a post as they were fleeing, and police traced the license plates to Edward Dillon. Another angle, on which the police questioned Forky Dillon, was that he was connected with the local of the Electrical Workers' union, of which Drullard was a member, and in which trouble was brewing.

Both men denied any knowledge whatever of the crime.

Aurora Judge Reserves Fight

Other developments in the warrent of the gangs and the efforts of the authorities to suppress them included an ultimatum issued last night by Judge John K. Newhall in Aurora giving officials of the county just one week to clear the community of vice and gambling. Judge Newhall announced his stand after the grand jury had heard a dozen witnesses tell about crime conditions in Aurora and the surrounding county. At the judge's instruction, the grand jury adjourned until next Monday. It was strongly indicated that if conditions have not been cleaned up by that time, the court will name special deputy sheriffs, and possibly a special prosecutor, to lead an independent drive against crime nests.

Among the witnesses before the grand jury was Sheriff L. L. Urich. Although the proceedings were secret, it was reported the jury told him he must act promptly and thoroughly. In a conference Saturday, Judge Newhall told both Sheriff Urich and State's Attorney Charles Abbott that they must clean up the records flourishing in the county, and, as a consequence, the lid was put on Saturday night.

Push Hunt for Kidnapers

Continuing their search for the actual kidnapers of Morris Rolens, St. Paul furrier, who was held for $75,000 ransom by a gangster band, the police yesterday booked Abraham Ginsberg, Minneapolis attorney, on charges of accessory after the fact to kidnaping. Ginsberg, it was charged, acted as a go-between, taking the gangsters' demands for the ransom to Charles Grosserth, a friend of Rolens. Grosserth, through his attorney,

Benjamin F. Epstein, yesterday issued a statement asserting that "charges contained in the newspapers, directly or indirectly, in any way intimating that I have the slightest connection with any band of black leaders or hood thieves or jewel thieves, are entirely without foundation."

"It is a matter of great regret to me," the Grosserth statement said, "that persons interested in getting Morris Rolens released from his captivity saw fit to call upon me for assistance in that regard."

"I am not now, nor have I ever been, under any obligations to supply ransom for any persons so far as I know, and the stories that have been printed about me in this connection have been very distressing to me and to my family."

AUTO ACCIDENTS CLAIM 4 LIVES; TOLL NOW 912

Four deaths yesterday raised the motor toll in Cook county since Jan. 1 to 912.

John Gatuto, 20 years old, of Koles, Ill., and his dog were burned to death in a fire that followed a collision between his automobile and a Chicago, Aurora and Elgin electric train in Oakwood, Ill. Forty gallons of gasoline carried in the car was fuel for the flames.

Chester Gensinski, 7 years old, 4915 South Honore street, died following an operation on his leg which was broken Oct. 8 when he was struck at 45th street and Ashland avenue by an automobile driven by John J. Gilmartin, 15 years old, 1703 West 47th street.

A fractured skull received Sunday night proved fatal to John Pavlick, 23 years old, 1224 South Rockwell street. He was struck at 75th street and Western avenue by an automobile driven by Dr. C. M. Tate, 5444 South Artesian avenue.

Joseph Gonzalez, 40 years old, 3947 Prairie avenue, was fatally injured when he was struck by an automobile while in front of his home. John Collins, colored, 24 years old, 1574 Indiana avenue, driver of the car, was taken into custody.

The bewitching Mickelberry seasoning

not only whets the appetite—but actually inspires digestion

One's appetite might be timid at other times. But under the spell of Grandmother Mickelberry's dainty sausages it quickly learned keener desire.

For her famous breakfasts on the old Mickelberry Plantation she always made the dainty links with her own matchless hands.

By some inspired skill she blended delicious morsels of tender young pork with a secret Southern seasoning that not only tantalized the taste beyond resistance but also aided digestion.

So none ever left the bounteous Mickelberry table with the appetite unappeased.

The same inspired flavor

It is to Grandmother Mickelberry that we owe the recipe for Mickelberry's famous little farm sausages.

The delicate, spicy flavor which so many relish today—which invokes good appetite and stimulates digestion—comes from the original recipe, which has never left the Mickelberry family.

But, instead of the selected few of those early days, millions now know Mickelberry's. It is served frequently in homes for any meal of the day. It is regarded with especial favor in leading hotels and clubs, and on finest trains.

Mickelberry's little farm sausages are made and delivered fresh every day. Sold in links, patties or meats. Look for the famous green and yellow package at meat shops everywhere.

Mickelberry's Food Products Co., 801 West 49th Place, Chicago, Illinois. Telephone Yards 1700.

You will also enjoy Mickelberry's Southern Smoked Ham, Sliced Bacon in Cans, Spiced Pig's Feet and other dainty luncheon specialties.

Today's Recipe SOUTHERN APPLE RINGS SAUTE

Fry 1 lb. Mickelberry little pork sausages. When done slice crossways 6 large unpeeled apples. Fry very slowly adding brown sugar to taste. Serve surrounded by sausages.

ANGLO-RUSSIAN ENVOYS CONFER; MAY PATCH ROW

See Step Toward Peace in Geneva Meeting.

BY HENRY WALES.

Special Tribune Staff Writer.

GENEVA, Dec. 5.—The first step toward a rapprochement between Great Britain and Russia occurred this afternoon.

Foreign Minister G. V. Chicherov, British Ambassador, Maxim Litvinoff, secretary of foreign affairs at London, and holding plenipotentiary powers from the Soviet government, met with Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, for the first time since the latter's arrival in Geneva.

The meeting of the two diplomats was arranged soon after midnight, when Mr. Litvinoff instructed his secretary to telephone the attaché of the British party, and Sir Austen was awakened from slumber to receive the communication.

When the Downing street representative arrived, Mr. Litvinoff, who has been here a week as the chief Russian delegate to the preliminary disarmament conference, postponed his departure for Moscow until tomorrow.

Minister of Public Instruction Lunacharsky and all the other members of the Red delegation left Geneva today.

British Progress was Made.

Although a communiqué was issued after the interview stating "no basis for agreement was found during the course of the meeting," it is reliably said that considerable progress toward a rapprochement was made through Mr. Litvinoff's representations and Sir Austen's friendly attitude.

No mention was made of such outstanding problems as the Czarist war debts or indemnification claims to British subjects' property, seized by the communists. The conversation had chiefly on broad questions of policy.

This meeting, coming on the heels of Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin's eloquent speech at a Guildhall banquet last month, when he said the time must come from the Russian side, and despite Commissioner Rykov's later statement that England must make the first advance, is considered a positive forerunner of the early resumption of diplomatic relations between Moscow and London. This will be possible, it is said, if Russia undertakes to abstain from mixing in Great Britain's internal affairs—meaning a cessation of communist propaganda.

PHYSICIAN IS HELD ON BIGAMY CHARGE MADE BY FIRST WIFE

Two happy homes, each with a wife ignorant of the other's existence, were maintained successfully for six months by Dr. William Enright, 44 years old, health director of a large hotel, according to charges that caused his arrest yesterday.

Today he will be sued for divorce by Mrs. Harriet E. Enright, 1257 Grandville avenue, to whom he was married in 1925, it was announced by her attorney, Benjamin Vandervelt. She swore out the warrant for his arrest, alleging that he was married last June to Miss Eleanor E. Jones, a typist, and that he has an apartment with her at 2450 Orchard street.

The doctor will be arraigned this morning in the Des Plaines street police court on the bigamy charge.

Dr. Enright, to deceive both women, told many tales of out of town business trips, enabling him to divide his time between his wives, according to Attorney Vandervelt.

and summing of labor troubles and strikes in England.

Chamberlain Warns Up.

Sir Austen's attitude was habitually cold and reserved and he remained in the background during the early parts of the conversation, but he showed considerably under the warming effects of Mr. Litvinoff's conciliatory statements. As the interview neared its end, the British foreign secretary inquired as to conditions in Russia, manifested real interest in the affair, and clasped the Red envoy's hand as the latter left his hotel suite.

Sir Austen's chief objection to resuming relations was that the Soviet government is unable to prevent the third international from maintaining branches for propaganda in all countries. He also insisted all the communist propaganda in the British empire must cease as a preliminary to the resumption of relations.

No mention was made of the Chinese situation, where London blames Russia for the boycott on English goods, and the northeastern European crisis, although Foreign Minister Aristide Briand of France previously informed Sir Austen that Mr. Litvinoff last night called on Premier Augustin Waldeck-Rousseau, urging the Lithuanian dictator to end the existing state of war with Poland and await the league's solution of the Vilna problem.

May Meet Again in Moscow.

"My government only broke off relations with yours after long, careful consideration, and very regretfully," Sir Austen reiterated on several occasions. Mr. Litvinoff declared the difficulties were largely the result of misunderstandings over certain matters.

Unless Moscow decides to hasten matters, Mr. Litvinoff will meet Sir Austen again in March when the next disarmament conference will be held immediately after the league council sits again.

England's commercial and financial interests, which were hard hit by the break with Russia, were responsible for Sir Austen's readiness to receive Mr. Litvinoff's overtures. The London government also has realized that big business and the bankers refuse to be influenced by the political situation, and continue to bid eagerly for Soviet trade.

Other Nations Get Trade.

In the six months since the break occurred the tremendous volume of Russian business, which Great Britain formerly enjoyed has been largely diverted to Germany, Japan, and certain American interests.

Unlike certain big American firms, which do business with Russia under the mask of German concerns which they control or are affiliated with, the British, to maintain the empire's prestige and London's standing, insist on doing business with the Soviets direct.

The league council's activities had a good deal of interest when it was announced that Marshal Jozef Pilsudski, the Polish dictator, was not coming to represent Poland in the Lithuanian row. The question of the partition of the Hungarian minorities in Roumania was postponed until the March session, owing to the illness of Foreign Minister Titulesco of Roumania.

Lithuania Gets Panicky.

(Chicago Tribune From Service.)

KOVNO, Lithuania, Dec. 5.—Following the publication in all Lithuanian papers of the official statement that Lithuania will fight rather than consent to any league of nations decision to close a peace with Poland without recovering Vilna, the feeling of nervousness among the population has increased, and even the officials are panicky.

Doctors say everyone should drink from six to eight glasses of pure water every day. For water is vital to the prompt, regular elimination so necessary in maintaining sturdy, robust health.

Because of its natural mineral properties Corinnis Waukesha Water has long been recommended by the medical profession for the gentle, effective manner in which it helps flush out all poisonous waste. It will not disturb or upset the system in any way. Children, as well as adults, can drink all they please without fear of unpleasant results.

Order a few bottles today. See how Corinnis gives new vim and vigor to the children. Drink it yourself. You'll be amazed at how much better it makes you feel!

Do your children drink enough water?

Doctors say everyone should drink from six to eight glasses of pure water every day. For water is vital to the prompt, regular elimination so necessary in maintaining sturdy, robust health.

Because of its natural mineral properties Corinnis Waukesha Water has long been recommended by the medical profession for the gentle, effective manner in which it helps flush out all poisonous waste. It will not disturb or upset the system in any way. Children, as well as adults, can drink all they please without fear of unpleasant results.

Corinnis WAUKESHA WATER

is a delicious-tasting health water—fresh every day from the famous Corinnis Spring at Waukesha, Wisconsin. It is free from all bitter iron and sulphur taste—a water everyone really likes to drink. Delivered to your home anywhere in Chicago and suburbs at a price anyone can afford to pay. Shipped anywhere in the United States.

Order a few bottles today. See how Corinnis gives new vim and vigor to the children. Drink it yourself. You'll be amazed at how much better it makes you feel!

JAPAN PREPARES TO LAND ARMY IN SHANTUNG AGAIN

70,000 Men Under Feng Encircling Tsinan.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
[Copyright 1927 by The Chicago Tribune.]
PEKING, Dec. 5.—The Christian General Feng Yu-hsiang is effecting a circular movement around Tsinan, capital of the province of Shantung.

The army is marching east in the direction of the railway and is grouped at three points, above and below Tsinan. Heavy fighting is going on. The attacking party of 70,000 men so outweighs the defenders it is undermining the morale of the attacked. Japanese troops are preparing to occupy the province.

(Tsinan is about 250 miles south of Peking on the Shanghai railway, at the junction with the railway to Tsingtao, 200 miles east, which formerly was held by Germany, was captured by the Japanese forces during the war, and controlled by Japan until a few years ago. Japan has been interested in the Tsingtao district. Japanese troops which were sent to this region about a year ago were blamed for the defeat of the nationalist forces under Gen. Chiang Kai-shek in their victorious march north of the Yangtze river, in the drive to take Peking.)

Nationalists Face Split.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
SHANGHAI, Dec. 5.—Owing to the failure of the Nanking nationalist delegates to attend today's session of the Kuomintang central executive conference, Chinese think a permanent split between the Nanking and Canton factions inevitable. Gen. Li Tsung-jen, a member of the Nanking faction, at Sunday's session denounced communism, demanded the severing of relations with Russia, and urged the Kuomintang to make a clean cut declaration of its severance from communism. Wang Ching-wel, leader of the Canton group, also denounced communism, but the conference took no action on Gen. Li's recommendation.

GET MSGR. OROZCO DEAD OR ALIVE, CALLES ORDERS

Priest Once Here Said to Back Revolt.

Nogales, Ariz., Dec. 5.—(AP)—Advice to the Nogales Herald today say the Mexican government has ordered that Archbishop Francisco Orozco y Jimenez, ranking Catholic prelate in Mexico, and alleged revolutionary leader, be taken dead or alive. The churchman, held by the government to be responsible for the activity of "religious fanaticism" in Jalisco, is being closely pursued by federal troops.

The churchman and his followers were said to have retreated into the hills near Los Altos. A heavy detachment of cavalry has been concentrated in the Los Altos district, charged with the task of trailing Archbishop Orozco until he is taken.

Archbishop Orozco was a resident in Chicago and Wilmette for five years, 1912 to 1917, while a refugee from his own country, being a guest of Most. Thomas F. Shannon of the Church of St. Thomas the Apostle at 55th and Kimbark avenues, who at that time was at the Church of St. Francis Xavier at Wilmette. He won great popularity in the Wilmette parish by his mild and gentle manner, especially among the children. From May until December of 1926, he also was here, attending the International Eucharistic Congress. He then was also a guest of Most. Shannon at the latter's home in Hyde Park.

STATE ACTS TO SPEED PRIMARY LAW DECISION

Carlstrom Asks Leave to File Mandamus.

BULLETIN.

Gov. Small intends to issue a call this week for a special session of the Illinois legislature, to begin on Dec. 19, it was learned yesterday in Chicago.

Although the principal business to be taken up is the enactment of new laws governing primary elections, it is said Mayor Thompson will request legislation making possible a graduated scale of assessments for subway construction.

BY PARKE BROWN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] Springfield, Ill., Dec. 5.—[Special.] Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom today began an effort to speed up the final decision on the constitutionality of the 1927 primary law. Proceeding in the name of a Marion county voter, he filed in the state Supreme court a petition asking permission to file a petition asking to mandamus the county clerk of Marion county to comply with the provisions of the law.

As the December term of court does not open until tomorrow, the first day on which leave may be granted is Wednesday. If the ruling of the court then is favorable, the attorney general will seek to expedite the proceedings so that at least an oral decision as to the validity of the statute may be handed down at the end of the term, probably shortly before Christmas.

Would Advance Decision.

A finding at that time would be in advance of anything looked for in the attacks on the law started in Cook county and in Lee county. Both of these have been tied up by Secretary of State Emmerson's attitude in deciding his right to time allowances. This attitude threatened to delay the circuit court decisions several weeks and probably would hold off any pronouncement by the Supreme court until its April term. This would be after the date now set for the primary.

Another important effect of this speed program may be seen in connection with the special session of the legislature. Gov. Len Small has said he will call a special session to enact new primary laws, without waiting for the high court to affirm or deny the decision of Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher of Cook county, that the present nominating law is invalid.

The governor, who was in Springfield today to confirm or deny rumors that he will leave the call this month.

What Petition Sets Forth.

Under instructions given by Attorney General Carlstrom before he left for Washington, today's proceedings were handled by Montgomery S. Winston, his assistant attorney general.

A motion for leave, together with a copy of the petition sponsored by A. W. Kell, Republican precinct committeeman of Centralia, was filed.

In both the motion and petition, Kell sets up that Paul W. Kramer, county clerk of Marion county, because of Judge Fisher's decision, has "concluded" that the 1927 law is unconstitutional; that he has no right to incur any liabilities against the county in compliance with the law; that he has refused to give notice of the primary or furnish supplies, such as ballots, and that he will continue to refuse to do so.

This, the petitioner pleads, would deprive him and other duly qualified electors of constitutional rights, including the right to vote for presidential electors.

"The grave importance of this question is so manifest that a discussion thereof is unnecessary," the petition reads.

The petition then sets up that, in another act, the last general assembly amended the so-called Australian ballot so as to prohibit the major parties (it excludes parties which cast more than 3 per cent of the vote in the last general elections) from selecting candidates under the convention and petition methods permitted by that law. As a result, it continues, if the primary law is nullified there would be no provision of law of any method by which nominees might be selected.

if you act at once—

Discolored by the percentage of starch present with every meal look like this.

Dissolve the starch and your teeth have a highly-polished, ivory-white gleam like this.

The amazing starch digestant in Senreco was discovered in one of America's leading scientific laboratories; is patent-protected and can be found in no other tooth paste.

Never before has it been possible to make yellow, discolored teeth brilliantly white. Dangerous abrasives only injure the delicate enamel. But now science whitens teeth amazingly in a new, simple, harmless way!

Now an amazing DISCOVERY that quickly brings WHITE, GLEAMING TEETH

In 15 seconds this new discovery dissolves the discolorant that even vigorous brushing with ordinary pastes and powders will not affect. Utterly harmless—yet almost instantaneously, this element give even dull, dingy teeth a new, pearl-white gleam!

At breakfast, luncheon, dinner, you daily apply to your teeth what is virtually a brown dye.

All teeth are naturally white. But a high percentage of the food you daily eat contains a substance chemically like gum arabic that is a glue and stain combined. It makes teeth grimy, unpleasant. Dental science has long sought a means of harmlessly removing it.

Harsh, gritty tooth pastes, while partially effective, are highly injurious to the delicate enamel. Soapy, foamy pastes give but a superficial, surface cleansing. BUT NOW, through the revolutionary discovery of one of America's leading dental laboratories, an element that, by a stop watch, dissolves starch in fifteen seconds, has been found! It quickly, yet safely, polishes teeth to a remarkable snow-whiteness!

How It Works

Modern foods contain a high percentage of starch. You get it in breads, pastries, potatoes, desserts, sugar, cereals—many other foods. This starch in your mouth chemically changes to glue and a stain of dirty, brownish hue. In the tiny grooves of your teeth—500 to an inch!—it clings.

That makes teeth dull, dingy, grimy. Brushing, scrubbing, rinsing, will not remove this peculiar staining agent.

Now at last, a leading dental scientist has discovered an element that almost instantly dissolves starch on teeth. Removes the discolorant—makes yellow, discolored, or tobacco-stained teeth brilliantly white. Eliminates tartar by digesting the starch that causes it. Yet, used three times a day, continually, it has no effect at all on the enamel itself!

Now this element has been put in a tooth paste—SENRECO. Teeth polished twice daily with it shine and glisten like polished ivory.

Ask Your Dentist

SENRECO TOOTH PASTE, containing this amazing new scientific element, is literally sweeping the country. By the famous Iodine Test, SENRECO'S remarkable starch-digesting efficacy has been proved before the majority of leading dental clinics and conventions. All other tooth pastes put to the same test failed.

People by the hundreds of thousands are adopting it, largely through dental advice. Already over 35,000 drug stores carry Senreco.

Make this test today! Buy a tube of SENRECO. Examine your teeth carefully in a mirror, before and after brushing with SENRECO for two minutes. If the results do not delight you simply return the tube and your money will be refunded.

Test this amazing new discovery—today.

WIDER AVONDALE PROJECT GETS UNDER WAY

Limit Set at 86 Feet on Northwest Side.

BY PUTNEY HAIGHT.

The first definite step toward development of the proposed Avondale super-highway was taken yesterday at a conference between county commissioners, city and regional plan officials.

It was decided that county highway department and board of local improvement engineers immediately designate an 86 foot right of way along the line of Avondale avenue from Edmunds street to the city limits and take steps to acquire by condemnation or dedication, or both, the necessary property.

Avondale avenue is now laid out as a 66 foot street for a greater part of that distance. Edmunds street is about 6400 number west and 6000 north.

The additional right of way, it was decided, will be made the subject of proceedings before paving improvements are begun. As soon, however, as values along the line are established by condemnation, the county is willing to begin laying a 46 foot pavement, which may be increased to 56 feet by assessment against frontage holders.

Work May Start Soon.
The significance of the action of the conference which, as constituted, is practically an official body, is that actual work on Avondale avenue is now a probability within a few months.

The status of the project may be outlined as follows:

The section from northwest city limits to Edmunds street, about three miles, is determined as an 86 foot right of way and a 46 foot pavement will be laid by the county.

Plan Work Toward Loop.
Section from Edmunds street to the loop now is in the course of planning by the Chicago plan commission. Conclusions resulting from various studies have been promised by the commission within a few days.

Section from Edmunds street to the board of local improvements in recommendation form, will receive immediate action, according to the statement of Mr. Faherty.

The decision by the county to do some actual building on the highway has been deferred heretofore because of an idea that construction of the road at the thoroughfare might interfere with the plan commission's idea. Engineer Young informed the conference that such construction would fit in with the commission's plan.

Need for 200 Feet.
During the session, Mr. Faherty expressed his views on the project and street improvement generally. "The city's end of the thoroughfare should be 200 feet wide if it is going to serve its purpose," he said. "If you build it 100 feet wide, then within ten years or so you will find it necessary to widen the street, and it will cost many times what the street originally 200 feet wide will cost, for property alone."

"We have to figure on street car transportation as well as automobile movement."

City Meets of County.

"In this highway development planning we hear a lot about the county. It's the county this and the county that. Yet the county is nothing but the city with about 8 per cent added on. Chicago is 92 or maybe 98 per cent of the county and is obligated to do a lot of work in the city proper."

The remarks about the county brought from Commissioner Buse the statement that the county's policy is to join the city in improvement projects.

"I think that I state an accepted fact," he said, "when I tell you that the county commissioners are now prepared to spend the entire amount of our share of the gasoline tax to be returned by the state wholly in city street improvement work."

Northwest Side Streets.

Maj. Quinlan called attention to the lack of adequate streets on the outskirts of the city, where the wider highway system of the county is being built. He pointed out that a tremendous amount of traffic would be dumped at the northwest entrance to the city by the Northwest highway, Milwaukee avenue and Waukegan road, which are scheduled for widening to 40 feet next summer. Unless the loop connection over Avondale avenue is hurried to completion, he said, a serious situation will exist. He added that Milwaukee avenue from Lawrence avenue to the city is incapable of bearing even normal city traffic.

Santa Maria, Cal., Dec. 5.—(AP)—A light earthquake occurred here today. The tremor lasted about 30 seconds, but no damage was reported.

TEACHER'S WIFE LOSES SUIT AS HE STOPS DRINKING

William A. Boyle, teacher in the Crane Technical High school, quit drinking in order to defeat a separate maintenance suit brought by his wife, Mrs. Anna R. Boyle, 1114 Wagonway avenue, Oak Park. He won that case, but yesterday her attorney, Leslie G. Donahue, announced she will file a new bill, asking for a divorce.

The separate maintenance suit, heard by Circuit Judge George Fred Rush, involved a fine determination on what constitutes excess drinking and also brought forth a new and liberal interpretation by the court of the Illinois separate maintenance statute.

The Boyles were married on Dec. 23, 1903, and separated in June of 1925. She filed a separate maintenance suit charging her husband with drunkenness.

Evidence was introduced to show that Mr. Boyle drank heavily once a week. This was too much, the court held, entering an interlocutory decree allowing the wife $25 a week support money. The decree, dated Dec. 1, 1926, included a provision that should Mr. Boyle refrain from excessive drinking for six months the alimony order would be set aside.

Last June, Mr. Boyle appeared in court with witnesses who testified his drinking had been considerably reduced during the prior six months. He also testified that he wanted his wife to return to him.

Judge Rush held that drinking moderately did not excuse the wife for living away from her husband and therefore she was not entitled to alimony. Mrs. Boyle, however, said she did not want to return to the teacher until he was "bone dry."

Since the husband was anxious to win his wife back, the judge suggested continuing the case for three months. This was agreeable and yesterday, on the husband's showing that he had not had a drink in the interim, and that his wife still refused to live with him, the court dismissed her bill.

READ COOLIDGE OMEN IN BUTLER CONVENTION TIP

Favors Kansas City; Hint Draft Move; Row On.

"Good of the party" was that Butler is a doubtful state and that the holding of the Republican convention there would tend to strengthen the party there in the election.

But the chairman thinks too far away and too expensive from the rail fare standpoint, while Detroit is in a rock ribbed Republican state and needs no convention. In Chicago there are too many presidential candidates, thinks Mr. Butler.

Committee Row Brewing.
Tonight, there is the biggest kind of a row brewing in the national committee. There is a widespread revolt against Butler and much plotting for the purpose of spanking Butler as he was spanked at Cleveland in 1924 when the convention turned down every candidate for Vice President he put up as spokesman for Mr. Coolidge.

With the solid south, Butler is said to have 40 of the 106 votes in the committee for Kansas City. National Committeeman Crocker of California claims to have about 40 votes for San Francisco. The anti-Butler contingent is marshalling the supporters of San Francisco, Cleveland, Chicago, Detroit and Philadelphia to stand pat in the voting on Wednesday with a view to putting Kansas City out of the running and then bringing about an agreement on one of the other cities.

Thompson to Lead Fight.

The slump in Detroit stock is variously accounted for. Some think it is due to the feeling that the convention should be held closer to the corn belt. Others say that the proximity of Detroit to the Canadian liquor supply inspired the leaders with fears of the effect on the country of the spectacle of the Republican convention adopting a dry platform in the United States between drinks in Canada. It was George Moses who facetiously remarked, when Detroit was the favorite, that it would be the first Republican convention held on Canadian soil.

Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago arrived tonight from Boston and will head the Chicago delegation tomorrow before the national committee. The mayor professed hopefulness that his city may land the convention. He said that if the fact that he is mayor is the only stumbling block he would agree to get out of Chicago during the convention period.

HUSBAND SAYS BRIDE PLOTTED TO SEIZE FARM

Lured to Altar, He Tells Court.

Joseph E. Bielby, 41 years old, testified yesterday before Circuit Judge Denis J. Normandy that he first learned about women two years ago when, he alleges, he was snared into matrimony in a scheme to get his $100,000 farm on the Wolf and Joliet roads. He professed it was his first experience with the opposite sex and asks the court to consider his lack of previous experience in relieving him from his predicament.

Bielby, a sun tanned farmer with a long gray moustache, is seeking to annul his marriage on July 8, 1925, on the grounds that he never lived with his bride.

Wife Rocks Maintenance.
The bride, Mrs. Amelia Bielby, 39 years old, a stout woman whose appearance reflects her years of toil in the field, is seeking separate maintenance. Their nuptial arrangement was a "companionate marriage," according to her story.

She alleges that although they did not live together after their wedding, they kept frequent trysts in the woods between their neighboring farms and that the absence of a common roof over their heads does not nullify the marriage.

Immediately following the wedding, according to the husband, his wife had him sign a deed conveying to her a joint tenancy of the 40 acres that represented his entire life's savings. She had won his affections for the sole purpose of getting the land, he contends.

Took Off Wedding Ring.

On the way home from the wedding and the signing of the deed, Mr. Bielby said, he was riding in his wife's horse drawn buggy. As they approached her home, she took off her wedding ring and made him get out and walk two miles to his farm, he alleges.

The trial was continued until this morning. The husband is represented by Attorney John K. Murphy and the wife by Attorney Emory J. Smith.

LINCOLN PARK BOARD PLANS ISLAND AIRPORT

Launch Project as Drive Is Opened.

Lincoln park commissioner are planning an island airport for the north side, it was announced yesterday by President David H. Jackson at a luncheon preceding the opening of the new outer drive segment from Irving Park boulevard to Montrose avenue. Details of the project are to be made public later, as the plans have not yet advanced beyond the formative stages, Mr. Jackson stated.

The new airport will meet the demands of citizens of the Uptown district who point out that the north side is the only section of the city now without an airplane terminal.

Use for Bomplanes.

The plan Mr. Jackson set forth is to build a breakwater and an L shaped line 100 feet wide and of proper length at the foot of either Grace street or Foster avenue. The harbor thus formed will be used for seaplanes and small lake craft.

Some 300 members of the Central Uptown Business Men's association were present at the luncheon and heard speeches by President Jackson, V. J. Corti, president of the association; E. L. Reed, vice president; James P. Ward, president of the north shore park district, and Dr. John Dill Robertson, president of the west park district.

Two Grade Separations.

The new link in Lake Shore drive comprises two roadways 40 feet wide and a service drive 25 feet wide to the west with ample parkway between. Two grade separations are included in the half-mile segment.

After the luncheon the commissioners, with officials of the business men's association, drove over the newly completed section after President Jackson cut a ribbon at Irving Park boulevard.

JACKSON TO GO ON TRIAL FEB. 7 ON BRIBE CHARGE

Overrules Plea to Abate Indictments.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 5.—[Special.]—The court today overruled the plea of the state to abate indictments against Jackson, former governor of Indiana, on charges of bribery.

The state's plea was filed by the attorney general, who argued that the indictments were "null and void" because they were returned by a grand jury that was "improperly constituted."

The court, however, ruled in favor of the state, stating that the grand jury was properly constituted and that the indictments were valid.

The court also ruled that the state's plea was "unavailing" and that the trial would proceed as scheduled.

The trial is set for February 7, 1928, at the Indiana state court in Indianapolis.

The state's attorney general, who is also the state's chief prosecutor, will represent the state in the trial.

The defense will be represented by a team of lawyers, including the state's chief counsel.

The trial is expected to last several weeks, with the state's case being presented first.

The state's case is based on evidence that Jackson received bribes from various sources in exchange for his office.

The state's case is supported by a large amount of evidence, including letters and documents.

The state's case is expected to be a strong one, and the trial is expected to be a major event in the state's history.

Stephenson Asks Court to Protect Him So He Can Further Expose Indiana Scandal

Michigan City, Ind., Dec. 5.—[Special.]—D. C. Stephenson, former governor of Indiana, today asked the court to protect him so that he could further expose the scandal in Indiana.

Stephenson's request was made in a petition filed in the court, in which he stated that he was being threatened by various sources.

The court, however, ruled that Stephenson's request was "unavailing" and that he would have to face the trial as scheduled.

VOLSTEAD BILLS HEAD DELUGE OF HOUSE MEASURES

Many Seek to Legalize
2.75% Beer.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—(Special.)—Bills for a modification of the Volstead act were more numerous than any other class of proposed legislation in a deluge of measures introduced in the house today. More than 6,000 bills of all kinds were offered. In the senate, no opportunity was given to present several hundred bills which senators have in readiness.

The new tax reduction bill, major provisions of which were agreed upon by the house ways and means committee ten days ago, was not ready. Its technical provisions were given final approval by the committee today, and the measure will be formally introduced by Representative Green, [Rep., Ia.], the chairman, tomorrow.

Deficiency Bill Due Today.
The first appropriation bill will reach the floor of the house tomorrow, when the deficiency bill is reported from the appropriations committee. Budget estimates for deficiencies, made public today, totaled $185,000,000. The tentative house program provides for consideration of the measure on the floor commencing Wednesday. Two or three days will be required for its passage, after which the tax bill will be given the right of way.

Most of the bills for the modification of the Volstead act provided for 2.75 per cent beer. Those introducing bills of this character included Representatives Oliver, [Dem., N. Y.]; O'Connell, [Dem., N. Y.]; La Guardia, [Rep., N. Y.]; Kindred, [Dem., N. Y.]; and Dyer, [Rep., Mo.]. Representative Sabath, [Dem., Ill.], introduced a measure for four per cent beer and 10 per cent wine. He also has one for government sale of liquor under a plan similar to the Canadian scheme.

Representative McLeod, [Rep., Mich.], offered a bill providing for a national referendum on the repeal of the eighteenth amendment at the time of the 1928 election. Representative Oliver's would permit state to authorize a more liberal alcoholic content for beer and light wines than authorized by the federal law, provided there is no conflict with the eighteenth amendment.

Drys Also Seek Changes.
Bills putting more teeth in the Volstead act were introduced by Representative Stalker, [Rep., N. Y.], providing heavier penalties, mandatory jail sentences for the manufacture, sale and commercial transportation of liquor and penalties for other violations which have developed since the passage of the original law.

GILLIOM ESCAPES PROSECUTION ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Decatur, Ind., Dec. 5.—(Special.)—The Adams county grand jury has returned a secret report. However, it is believed that the grand jury did not indict Arthur Gilliom, Indiana attorney general, for violation of the state home dry law as his arrest did not follow the report. The grand jury had investigated the purchase by Gilliom of a pint of whiskey here for administration to his sister, ill in a Decatur hospital.

Gilliom, although charging that the Anti-Saloon league and Klan were instigating he be indicted, has been accused of welcoming prosecution to further his campaign for modification of the state prohibition law to permit prescription by physicians of medicinal liquor.

Drys Waverling UNDER CONSTANT FIRE OF WETS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—(Special.)—Admission that the dries are wavering under the fire of wet opposition and that steps must be taken to reform the ranks of the prohibition forces was made tonight by Bishop Thomas Nicholson, president of the Anti-Saloon league, and the opening speaker at the national convention of the dry organization.

The frank disclosure of weakness followed the announcement by the executive committee of the league that the creation of a new department of education, publicity, and research had been recommended to the national board of directors of the league as a step toward popularizing the prohibition law by educating the people.

Abandon Coercion Tactics.
Spokesmen for the dry organization characterized the formation of the new department as a triumph for the faction which has reached the conclusion that the reputation and power of the organization can only be regained by an abandonment of the old coercion tactics and the adoption of a policy where emphasis will be placed on arousing respect for the dry law by educating people to its advantages.

Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington of Westerville, O., is slated to be the first director of the new department, and his election, league leaders assert, will mark the passing of control from the hands of F. Scott McBride, the present national superintendent. As head of publicity and education, Dr. Cherrington, it is asserted, will be the real leader of the organization and the actual successor to the throne formerly occupied by Wayne B. Wheeler.

Denies He's Sidelined.
The decision to recommend the formation of the new department, a step which is expected to be followed by action tomorrow, followed forty-eight hours of wrangling between the opposing forces backed by Cherrington and McBride. The compromise, the leaders said, will result in the reelection of Mr. McBride to a post shorn of its power.

Superintendent McBride tonight took sharp exception to reports that his entry into power will mark the beginning of an era where much more attention will be paid by the league to extend prohibition enforcement to other countries.

Bishop Nicholson in his address charged that international liquor interests are trying to break down prohibition in the United States. He asserted that in his judgment the United States at this time is in the greatest struggle since the civil war for the effectuation of democracy.

"We are face to face with the problem of whether we are to be deterred from the enjoyment of the victory of prohibition," he said, "by a noisy and unscrupulous minority whose one slogan is, 'you can't enforce the law.'"
"We are told that it is impossible to enforce prohibition in great cities like New York, Chicago and Detroit. I raise the question as to whether we are to have to set up in this country a series of city republics. Are we to allow New York, Chicago and Detroit to do as they please, to obey what laws they like, to nullify what laws may be disliked by their underworld or their vested interests?"

He asserted that in his judgment the United States at this time is in the greatest struggle since the civil war for the effectuation of democracy.

is such a vast improvement over the time honored eyewash of plain boric acid.

Iris contains camphor, menthol, witch-hazel, boric acid, and pure distilled spring water, all sterilized and put into sealed sterile flasks.

Iris does three definite things for you. It makes your eyes sparkle and look alive and vivacious. It cleanses the cornea, the tear ducts and under the upper and lower eyelids. It relieves soreness and inflammation.

If you will try our bottle of Iris we know you will realize its virtues. All

Are Love and Crime

the favorite topics of Reading among young people?

"I opened our eyes to discover what our children were reading," I told my neighbor Portman, who is a school superintendent. "Is this the sort of thing youngsters of today are interested in?"

"No, not necessarily," he replied. "The fact is they are curious about anything."

"Parents can only blame themselves if they don't direct their children's reading. The big news of early life are questions like—what makes popcorn pop—why does an elephant sleep standing up—where do birds go in winter—what makes a motor run—why do stars twinkle?"

Children come under a teacher's influence less than one twenty-fifth of their lives from birth to legal age. They have to obtain most of their education outside of school. They absorb what is most interesting—and if it happens to be trash, that's what they fill their minds with.

Big Income, Social Standing Go to People with Knowledge and Culture

The child of today must have training, knowledge and skill if he is to succeed
when he grows up. His stock of ideas and ability will earn his living. He must be equipped with sound, practical knowledge—just as a soldier is fully equipped before he is marched into battle. Give a youngster a chance to learn worth-while things at an impressionable age, and he's educated for life!

The World Book makes knowledge interesting and easy to acquire—explains with simple words and pictures.

Grown-ups, as much as young people, feel at home in its pictured pages.
There are no big words, Greek, or Latin to be confusing. The interesting things great men and women said and did are there. It explains what makes things go —what's behind the puzzling things we see.

The American Weekly announces a new page rate!

HISTORY is filled with mirrors for stubbornness. Down the ages, men have spited their pockets to indulge snap judgment and prejudice.

So the Sibyl continues to sell her tenth book for the price at which she originally offered the entire ten.

And for ten years the American Weekly has gradually sold space to former critics of its editorial and circulation policy, at advances that now total ten thousand dollars per page.

Advertisers who have successively protested each "prohibitive" rate rise, are advised that the publication is now closing the heaviest contracts of record.

They are also informed that no further orders will be rated under $16,000 per color page.

The average manufacturer will wince at the price, because his experience cannot visualize the immensity and promotion force of a five million edition.

He has never bought readers in such intensified blocs.

He still follows the discredited formula of map coverage at the expense of thoroughness.

His campaigns wander helter-skelter from Painted Post to Tillamook.

They dribble into ten thousand townlets that absorb only the crudest necessities. And meander along buyways whose trading facilities are restricted to mail boxes and catalogues.

There's where millions of net rated A.B.C. circulation lands.

That's how incalculable quantities of R. F. D. and club subscriptions are smatter-scattered.

And it somewhat explains the process of extracting red figures from printer's ink.

The American Weekly suffers no such leakages.

Its circulation is engineered to deliver one hundred per cent of productive energy.

It sticks to definite objectives.

Its selective and controlled newsdealer distribution, at ten and fifteen cents per copy, is entirely concentrated at strategic consumption points.

American Weekly families are metropolitan and small city folk.

Their five million collective incomes are the stand-bys of prosperity and stability.

They spend a billion dollars a month—forty millions a day.

Their purses have no vacations or seasons.

They deny themselves no indulgences, luxuries or whims.

They change clothes with the fashion—cosmetic with the vogue—cars with the latest model.

Two-thirds of the great department stores, three-fourths of store chain units are massed in these fifteen hub territories.

The merchants of American Weeklydom are tonnage and carload users—repeaters, not samplers. Limitless local outlet permits them to carry full assortments and continuously freshened stocks.

These are the easiest reached and sustained markets in the United States.

But they can't be carried by pop-gun assault or held at pinch-penny expense.

Every product that invades them must prepare to grapple with the prestige of rapidly strengthening house brands and meet dealer publicity, space with space.

It's a big game and worth a big candle.

And the American Weekly is the one—the only medium that can crash through the counter-resistance of aggressive local concerns, growingly determined to mould and control the confidence of their own publics.

But every establishment must finally submit to the overwhelming demand inspired by vivid color posters, compelling the attention of twenty-five million regular readers.

Heavy duplication and a much higher aggregate cost advise against any possible combination of smaller national publications attempting the same task.

The American Weekly does its specialized job far better—and for far less.

Its saturating and dominating power must compel the attention of all fair-minded and analytical budgets.

Sixteen thousand dollars per page for half the retail purchasing capacity of the nation.

PAID $2,000,000 GAMING DEBT FOR PRINCE OF WALES

Casual Was Knighted as Edward Became King.

New York, Dec. 5.—(Special.)—Sir Edward Casel, grandfather of Lady Diana, Cynthia, Annette Mountbatten, who paid a $2,000,000 gambling debt for the Prince of Wales, today was knighted as Edward became king.

The Prince of Wales, according to a story that appeared today in an affidavit filed in Supreme court.

The affidavit was sworn to by Walter Hyams, who has sued Felix M. Hyams, banker and philanthropist, $17,768. Hyams, head of a newspaper clipping bureau, claims the sum is owed him by Mr. Warburg, who he claims arranged in 1922 that the banker be seated next to Lady Mountbatten.

Wanted to Talk Business.

The luncheon was held at the Bankers Club, 115 Broadway. Hyams claims to have seated the guests so that Mr. Warburg might talk to Lady Mountbatten "on matters of international finance and might establish a connection whereby his banking house (Lomb & Co.) might participate in any business of a financial nature which the government might wish to transact in the United States."

Not Member of Nobility.

At the time the late king's baccarat debts were paid by Casel, the affidavit states, Casel was not a member of the nobility. He was knighted by Edward, the affidavit continues, in return for the favor.

Continuing his account of the private life of the Mountbattens, Hyams' affidavit said that Lord Mountbatten was a member of the "palace set" but later was "blackballed" from the royal yacht squadron at Cowes, England.

MAINE TEXTILE MILLS TO CUT WAGES 10%—6,000 ARE AFFECTED

Biddeford, Me., Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Adding to the growing list of New England textile plants which have declared wage cuts this season, the Pepperell Manufacturing company here and the York Manufacturing company, with mills in Saco, today posted notices of a 10 per cent wage reduction effective next Monday. Competition on the part of southern mills and northern plants producing similar grades of goods was given as the reason for the reduction.

More than 6,000 workers will be affected, bringing the total of Maine textile operatives whose wages have been cut this season to 11,500. The mills of the Pepperell company here employ 3,500 operatives and the Saco mills of the York company, 2,500.

The new wage scale in the Pepperell mills, it was said, would be applied to the office force at the company's headquarters in Boston as well as to the operatives.

SEARCH RUINS OF ST. LOUIS HOTEL FOR FIRE VICTIMS

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Powerful searchlights were employed tonight in the search for two bodies believed to be in the ruins of the Buckingham hotel annex, which was destroyed today with a known loss of five lives.

The two missing persons are Mr. and Mrs. J. J. O'Brien, who registered at the hotel last night. It is feared they met death in the east wing of the building, which was destroyed. Ten persons were injured, the majority of whom are at hospitals receiving treatment.

The police were requested tonight by William W. McKensie, an insurance salesman, to look for a man dressed in a gray overcoat, to whom McKensie said he tossed a tin box containing $4,500 in bonds and a diamond ring valued at $300 as he stood at his window in the burning building.

All of the known dead are women. Three of them were killed by jumping from the windows of the burning east wing, while a fourth was burned to death in her room and another was suffocated by smoke. The dead are: Mrs. Luther M. Conn, 75; Miss Maria L. Subanks, 47; Miss Bessie Groat, 33; Miss Ella O'Mara, 59; and Miss May Fraser.

PROSTITUTES IN U. S. 70% NATIVE, LEAGUE IS TOLD

Report on 'White Slaves' Is Made Public.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
[Copyright, 1927, by The Chicago Tribune.]
GENEVA, Dec. 5.—The league of nations committee's report on traffic in women and children, submitted to the council this morning by Col. William Snow of New York, reveals that more than 70 per cent of the "white slaves" in the United States are American born, with Great Britain, Ireland and Canada supplying another ten per cent. Russia, five per cent and Italy and France only an insignificant proportion.

The report covers a survey of 38 nations.

"The best conditions prevail in portions of the country that have been settled the longest, but conditions in cities like Detroit and Los Angeles have taken on the conditions of frontier towns," says the report which divulges that most of the former traffickers in women now have turned bootleggers.

Hits at Panama Conditions.
Yankee marines and sailors furnish a rich harvest for the underworld dens of Panama.

"The United States soldiers stationed in the Canal Zone have been prohibited from entering the red light district," says the report. The investigators offered photos of the girls crowding into the cribs.

Paris has 25,000 prostitutes, including 3,100 licensed houses, seven of which maintain American girls.

Licensed houses exist in Germany, Hamburg, Berlin and Altona have suppressed the houses, but there are innumerable flats in which women stand in the windows and beckon the customers.

Getting girls to pose for obscene photos for tourists, and putting on masked dances in secret places have developed into big industries in Berlin.

London prohibits houses, but prostitutes walk the streets without interference from the police as long as they do not annoy pedestrians, says the report.

WILL TALK ON PACIFISM.
In an address next Monday afternoon before the Government club at the Drake hotel the Rev. C. Seymour Bullock, who served as a chaplain with the Canadian expeditionary force, will review and condense the economic and political activities in the United States. His subject will be "Pacifism and Democracy." It was announced.

Why do such firms as Pullman . . . General Motors . . . Sears Roebuck . . . Macy's . . . National Biscuit . . . Cluett Peabody invest their millions in ATLANTA?

As the South emerged into stable prosperity, casting off the dominance of cotton, changing from an agricultural to a great industrial section, it became evident that America's leading concerns were selecting Atlanta, above all other locations, as industrial headquarters of this rich, new market.

In the last two years alone, more than three hundred nationally known organizations have, after careful study and analysis, placed their Southern branches in Atlanta. The Pullman Company put $2,000,000 into shops. Sears Roebuck built a $3,000,000 plant. National Biscuit's $2,500,000 bakery is now in production. Macy's occupies a $3,000,000 store. Cluett Peabody's first Southern plant will soon be ready to serve the Southern trade from here. And by April, General Motors will be running Chevrolets off the line in their new $2,250,000 Atlanta plant.

It is obvious to any business man that there must be very definite advantages and economies to attract to one city the Southern branches of nearly 900 of America's most ably directed corporations as Atlanta has done. It should be obvious to the head of every business in America that the facts about Atlanta are too important to overlook.

In response to a demand for these facts, the Atlanta Industrial Bureau was organized. Without charge or obligation, the specialists of the Bureau survey conditions in relation to specific lines of industry, and report to interested executives. When you request an Atlanta Survey, the facts are gathered as they apply to your business—and in the strictest confidence. The report laid on your desk is as trustworthy as if made by your own staff of engineers.

The facts will include an outline of the rich market that lies within easy reach of Atlanta, along the fifteen lines of the eight great railroad systems radiating from here. You will be shown, in dollars and cents, the savings you can expect because labor is efficient, raw materials are plentiful and cheap, power rates compare with the lowest in the country, taxes are low, building costs are from 20% to 35% under those in your present location.

There is no business so free from competition with costs, so secure in its monopoly of the market, so independent of the service demands of its trade as to disregard the production and distribution economy, the extra volume, the extra profit offered by Atlanta. For the good of your business, get the full story.

WHY YOU SHOULD BUY READING ANTHRACITE

FIRST, because it is anthracite, the safest and most satisfactory of all fuels.

Second, because we are setting our standards to make it pound for pound the cleanest, dollar for dollar the most heating value among anthracite coals.

It is safe because it can be stored anywhere without damage to your property.

It is most satisfactory because it burns so evenly and so long with little attention.

It stores indefinitely without deterioration or becoming dust. It is clean to handle.

Every dollar of nine-figure resources, every individual of tens of thousands of employees, are devoted to the dual purposes of making Reading Anthracite the cleanest coal obtainable anywhere, of making the supply available in your community at every time.

Heating safety and satisfaction will be yours when you buy Reading Anthracite. Insist on getting it from your coal merchant.

GROWTH

IN half a century the telephone in America has grown from a crude instrument and a length of wire to more than 18,000,000 telephones, interconnected by 61,000,000 miles of wire.

It has grown from uncertain transmission between two rooms to easy and dependable service from village to village throughout our big cities and across the continent and between this continent and Great Britain.

As an investment the telephone industry has grown from a subject of jest, when first introduced, to a $3,000,000,000 business, the property of 800,000 men and women who are confident in its stability and earning power.

It has grown from two men, the inventor and his assistant, to an army of 350,000 engaged in meeting the problems of construction, maintenance and operation.

It has grown from a single sentence, barely intelligible, to a daily traffic of 73,000,000 calls, each a message of value to someone.

This growth is the measure of the people's need for personal communication and of the activity, in only half a century, in meeting that need.

BECKER LEARNS ART OF WALKING ON SNOWSHOES

Prepares to Hunt Moose in Ontario Woods.

BY BOB BECKER.
BIG POGAMUOS LAKE, Ont., Dec. 5.—Before one can go moose hunting the art of snowshoeing must be mastered, says Jack, our guide. Inasmuch as shuffling along on the big webs seems to require a knowledge of the human's roll, the Boston guide and the Argentine came to the camp a pretty busy time today learning how to make the right foot behave when we take our eyes off the left one.

Jack showed us into the woods for a hike while he turned his attention to a big jack pine near camp as we must have plenty of firewood if we are to keep the chibabias outside of the camp door. So we put on the shoes, loaded up the Manner at 10 o'clock in the morning (close to camp), and started into the forest for a stroll. Jack told us to work southwest from camp among the rolling hills covered with spruce, balsam, poplar, alders, and jack pines. So we took a bearing on the compass and the wadded away over the crust of the snow, carefully lifting each foot so as not to let one get in the way of the other. The latter procedure of course causes a spill.

It's No Easy Trick.
As soon as we reached the woods it was apparent that at this time of the year no one can hunt without snowshoes. The crust on the snow will wear up a rabbit, fox, hare, or weasel but hinders crash through the surface, thus making the walking a heart-breaking, fatiguing endeavor. Twenty minutes without your snowshoes and you're panting. In an hour you're dived out and in two hours you would be calling for an ambulance, stretcher, stimulants or what have you.

Our shoes seemed to know their way around in the woods fairly well. We're using a bear paw type, with rounded and slightly rolled up toes. The foot harness is Mike Bates' invention, which gives your heels and feet excellent leverage. The "babies" or net [made of cut moosehide] is not too heavy so the shoes go in the medium weight class.

Bob Takes a Tumble.
There were times when one of the shoes tried to crawl under a twig, an act which sent us crashing headlong into the snow. And there were hills on which the shoes ran away from our feet [more spills]. But after a five mile walk we demonstrated our "dance steps" for the guide's benefit, and he says we will do.

Rangers Lead Hockey League; Oklahoma City, Tulsa Stay in Western Loop

BY FRANK SCHREIBER.

New York's Rangers are leading the title chase in the National Hockey League. The Gotham team tops the table by two points and has scored more goals than any other club in the league.

The Rangers have twelve points to their credit, representing five games won and two tied. They have been defeated only twice. Montreal's Maroons are in second place with 10 points, having won four games, tied two, and lost two, while the Boston Bruins have won three contests, tied two, and lost three for 9 points, which gives them third place.

Hawks Trail Division.
The Chicago Blackhawks, who lost their first three games on the Coliseum rink, are in next to the last place in the American division of the league with only six points to their credit, but this position doesn't discourage Manager Barney Stanley.

After taking three beatings in a row at the Coliseum, the Hawks stepped out last Saturday night and trimmed the New York Rangers, 4 goals to 2, and Stanley is confident his club has hit its stride and will be on the winning end of the score most of the time in the remaining games this season.

At the start of the season the Blackhawks were introduced to a new style of play. Manager Stanley inaugurated the close passing game which he used with great success as manager of the Winnipeg Maroons. This combination play was in direct contrast to the style used by the Blackhawks of 1926-27, who were coached by Pete Muldoon.

For the first three games of the season the Hawks were successful. They won two contests and tied one. Then the veterans of the squad apparently tried to revert to the Muldoon style of play and the results were disastrous. Four straight defeats were handed the Hawks before Manager Stanley finally gathered his squad together and brought them back to the close passing attack. Last Saturday night was the first game on the home rink in which the Hawks' offensive game was displayed to advantage. The close passing game prevailed and the success of this method of attack can be noted in the Hawks' 4 to 2 victory.

Hawk Forwards Improve.

Another point of encouragement in the Hawks' victory was the play of Corbett Denneny and Gordon Fraser, two forward line players. Denneny flashed a brilliant offense which enbled him to score two of the Blackhawks' four goals. Corbett is a veteran in point of service in the hockey world, having been a member of various amateur teams throughout Canada, but his career in professional hockey has been short. He is 32 years old and came to the Hawks this season from a western Canadian team.

Against the Rangers, Denneny displayed a fine brand of hockey. His passing was accurate and fast, his skating was brilliant, and his stick handling hardly could be improved. One of the goals he scored against the Rangers was from more than ten feet out from the net and was a hard low drive that fooled Galle Chabot of the New York team completely.

Fraser's play against the Rangers was a big surprise to Stanley. Manager Pete Muldoon last season started Fraser as a defense player. Late in the season injuries forced Muldoon to use Fraser on the forward line, where he showed some skill, and this season, in the practice period preceding the opening of the title race, Manager Stanley determined to use Fraser as a regular forward.

In the first games of the schedule Fraser was tried out at various positions on the forward line, but didn't show much. Finally Stanley sent the husky red headed boy to left wing and kept drilling him at that position. Against the Rangers, Fraser played the left side of the forward line to perfection, and from now on he'll stick at the position. He showed ability to take passes easily and shoot with accuracy from his left side, and this fact has clinched the starting post at left wing for him for the rest of the season.

The Hawks will meet the New York Americans at the Coliseum tomorrow night.

Moray L. Eby May Replace Ingwersen as Iowa Grid Coach

Moray L. Eby, football coach at Ohio college of Iowa, may be the next gridiron leader at the University of Iowa, according to a rumor in circulation at the annual meeting of the western conference at the Hotel Sherman last Friday and Saturday.

Eby learned his football at the Hawkeye institution and has been successful since as a coach. At one time he was assistant to Jesse Hawley, the present Dartmouth football coach when Jesse was at Iowa. Eby's teams always have been well coached and he is looked on as a close student of the game.

The present Ohio college coach is the choice of Iowa alumni living west of the Mississippi river. When Howard Jones resigned a number of influential alumni wanted Eby at that time and criticized the selection of Bert Ingwersen.

Board Rules Against Secession.
The proposed lifting of two clubs out of Western league territory, leaving the latter organization to remain its own face as best it could, met its Waterloo in an executive meeting of the National Board of Arbitration, which handles all matters in which only minor league clubs or players are involved.

The board ruled against the proposition on the plea that it lacked power to take playing territory from one organization and give it to another.

John H. Baird, chairman of the national board, issued a statement explaining the board's position in the Western league controversy.

"The reserve laws and territorial rights are the pillars of organized baseball," he said, "and when you tear one away you destroy the strength of the entire fabric. The decision simply means the cities are Western league territory. It does not mean that Oklahoma City and Tulsa cannot get out of the league. If they can buy out, we have nothing to do about it. That's the Western league's business."

"Since we were forced to make a decision I am glad it has been done, for it may settle similar controversies that are beginning to arise in other sections."

Club Sales Up to League.
The American Association took its stand against major league ownership by revising its constitution to include a clause that gives the league directors the power to say who shall and shall not be the holders of a club franchise. In one sale is not approved by the directors, the league, by the adoption of the new clause, will have the power to purchase the club involved. Henry Killies, the new Milwaukee owner, was made a member of the league finance committee.

President Thomas Hickey in his annual report to the A. A. board said that 1,700,000 people had passed through the turnstiles last season.

Mr. Berlenbach and Mr. Delaney probably will put on a good fight in the impending Coliseum appearance, says. During these previous weeks the thrills virtually knocked the derbies of the ringside scholars. Further, it is true that on one of these occasions Jack did remove from the possession a bona fide, 180 pound, heavy-weight championship.

From Agents Go to Work. Since that momentous accomplishment Mr. Delaney has abdicated the title, due in part to an accumulation of injuries there on the ring and elsewhere. His gun now are trained, it is reported, on the title of Gene Tunney, in which weighing scales are not involved.

The slight technicality has found the public bureau of enlightenment undisturbed, however. If now appears that if Berlenbach makes the light heavyweight title, he is too great a load on his feet, the little fellow is entitled to the title the big fellow once held. It is figured that this line of reasoning should almost double the attendance at the Coliseum Friday night.

One of the persons impressed by this bit of promotional calculation is Pete Kelly, manager of Delaney. When the graphs were revealed to Kelly he immediately started to worry, although, it is reported, he heartily congratulated Promoter Jim Mullen on the genius of his statistical department.

Delaney resigned title. Delaney resigned the light heavyweight championship on July 26, after his manager announced in New York that he no longer could scale 175 pounds and be at his best. Jack Kelly, who was at the time, understood the title with the understanding that if he ever came back to the light heavyweight division it would be as a contender for the title. When Delaney retired he had been ordered to fight Mike McTigue on Aug. 11, which was the same date Tex Rickard had selected for the Delaney-Paulino fight.

Delaney expects to weigh 177 pounds Friday night. Berlenbach probably will weigh in at about the same figure as reached for the recent bout with Micky Walker—173½ pounds. This will make Paul eligible for the championship Friday night, according to announcements made at Mullen headquarters yesterday.

Solomon Sprains Ankle; Roberti Bout Canceled

New York, Dec. 5.—A 10 round bout between King Solomon of Panama and Roberto Roberti, Italian heavyweight, scheduled for the Broadway arena tonight, was canceled with the rest of the card when Solomon sprained his ankle. Mr. Roberti had been scheduled to fight Mike McTigue on Aug. 11, which was the same date Tex Rickard had selected for the Delaney-Paulino fight.

Mr. Roberti, who is a brunette gentleman and who doubtless could lick all but two of Mr. Rickard's star bums in one and the same ring on one and the same night.

Now by an oversight in a hasty business encounter with the Messrs. Flynn and Johnston he discovers that Mr. Godfrey may be promoted into the character of the organizers and the aims of the enterprise.

"I think," Mr. Flynn said, "that it would be appropriate in every way as well as a deserved tribute to the character of my colleague, Mr. Johnston, and myself, if we should call our firm Nature's Noblemen, Inc."

O. W. Lehmann, of Chicago, Starts New Racing Stable

BY FRENCH LANE.
Otto W. Lehmann, whose horses have been taking down blue ribbons in show rings throughout America for many years, is the latest Chicagoan to register his racing colors with the jockey club in New York.

A crimson shirt with two white rings on the sleeves and crimson and white cap will be the Lehmann colors. They will be carried by Reigh Ogle, which for a time ran in the silks of Mrs. John D. Hertz last fall, and by a number of other thoroughbreds that are now being wintered on Mr. Lehmann's farm between Lake Villa and Antioch.

He announced that his venture into the thoroughbred racing game might curtail his show horse interests somewhat, but would not take him entirely away from this sport in which he has been playing such an important role. He was chairman of the riding club's big show of two weeks ago.

There was no meeting of Illinois race track owners in Chicago yesterday to pick dates for the next racing season. The track owners did not meet because no meeting had been called, according to Charles W. Bidwell, secretary of the Illinois Turf association. "We don't want our big stake dates to conflict with stake dates in Maryland, New York and Kentucky," Mr. Bidwell said. "If we can avoid conflict, we will."

ness championship had just thrown him for a rolling fall, because for the last six months it has taken great effort on Mr. Rickard's part to ignore Mr. Godfrey, who is a brunette gentleman and who doubtless could lick all but two of Mr. Rickard's star bums in one and the same ring on one and the same night.

Now by an oversight in a hasty business encounter with the Messrs. Flynn and Johnston he discovers that Mr. Godfrey may be promoted into the character of the organizers and the aims of the enterprise.

New York, Dec. 5.—[Special.]—The market finished today with a turnover of 1,500,000 shares. The market was mainly firm, with profit taking made it irregular in places.

There were several strong spots, too, and individual issues of particular interest went forward in good fashion. In the main, however, the market was enjoying a breathing spell, with time in anticipation of Coolidge's message to Congress tomorrow.

Prices were slightly lower, reflecting an accumulation of over-extended orders. In midmorning the market was firmer. This prevailed until the afternoon. In the afternoon there was a continuation of the profit taking which served to unsettle the market.

Some Wide Changes

In the uptide, International Harvester, Montgomery Ward, and Sears-Roebuck exhibited the widest changes. On the down side, Pan-American Petroleum, General Motors, International Nickel and Westinghouse appeared to yield most easily to the pressure against them.

Wall Street is going to pay a great deal of attention to the President's message and especially any part of the message which may deal with the railroads. The fact that consolidations have been held in abeyance pending a decision of the consolidation act by Congress and that no permission for consolidation is likely from the Interstate Commerce Commission until the act is decided, has led many railroad men to the belief the President will suggest in his message that this problem be hurried along.

R. F. Goodrich Accumulated

Several speculative interests, including accumulations of Arthur Cutten and other brokers, continue to accumulate R. F. Goodrich shares. In connection with this buying, a brokerage house states that the company established a winning power in a stable rubber market in past years. At present, the company says, the outlook for rubber seems entirely satisfactory and makes Goodrich common seem an attractive purchase at its present level.

For the Settlement of Your Estate—

Facilities Beyond Any Individual

The facilities which Central Trust Company has developed for the competent settlement of estates—your estate—surpass those which any individual executor can offer, because:

Central Trust Company combines the experience and judgment of many individuals and commands, in addition, other facilities for efficient business administration which are solely due to its position as a modern, corporate institution making a specialty of estate settlements.

Investigation will show you the advantages of naming Central Trust Company as executor and trustee under your will. You are cordially invited to confer with us.

The Okonite Company

Fifteen-Year 5 1/2% Sinking Fund Gold Debentures

Series A

Dated December 1, 1927

Due December 1, 1942

Coupon Debentures $1,000 and $500 denominations, registrable as to principal; interchangeable. Callable on 30 days' notice, as a whole at any time or in part on any interest date, prior to December 1, 1930 at 105 and interest, premium thereafter decreasing 1% each 3 years to maturity. Interest payable without deduction for Normal Federal Income Tax up to 2%; Pennsylvania and Connecticut 4 Mills Taxes and Massachusetts Income Tax up to 6% refundable under conditions stated in Trust Agreement.

From the letter of H. Durant Cheever, Esq., President, we summarize as follows (statements for assets and earnings including both The Okonite Company and properties now being acquired from Hazard Manufacturing Co., but not including Okonite-Callender Cable Co., Inc. other than as a stock investment):

BUSINESS: The Okonite Company, founded 1878, is one of the leading manufacturers in the United States of high quality insulated electrical wires and cables. It has plants at Passaic, New Jersey, and is now acquiring plants from Hazard Manufacturing Co., at Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania. Products include super-tension wires and cables for aerial and underground power transmission, train control wire, covered electrical wire, and varnished cambric and rubber insulated wires for a wide variety of industrial and other purposes. It also owns a 50% stock interest in Okonite-Callender Cable Co., Inc. at Paterson, New Jersey. Customers include electric power and light companies, railroads and railway signal companies, telephone, telegraph and cable companies and other large users of insulated electrical wire. Sales in 1926 were $9,372,929.

ASSETS: Net assets, after deducting all liabilities other than funded debt, based on balance sheet as of October 31, 1927, adjusted to include results of present financing, are $5,255,424, or more than 260% of this issue, constituting the Company's total funded debt upon completion of present financing. Total current assets of $2,503,288 are then more than 5 times total current liabilities of $462,718. Upon completion of this financing Company has no floating debt. Net current assets $2,040,570.

EARNINGS: For the year ended December 31, 1926, net earnings, after depreciation, available for interest, were $665,434, or more than 6 times the interest requirement for this issue; for 4 years ended December 31, 1926, average annual net earnings were $568,322, or more than 5 times this interest requirement; and for the 10 months ended October 31, 1927, net earnings were at an annual rate of more than 5 1/2% times this requirement.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: Proceeds of these $2,000,000 Debentures, together with the proceeds of $1,000,000 7% Preferred Stock, are to be applied to retirement of the Company's 7% Ten-Year Sinking Fund Gold Notes, 8% Cumulative Preferred Stock, and all outstanding notes payable, and to acquisition of additional properties. The financing will further add approximately $590,000 cash to working capital.

SINKING FUND: Annual cash Sinking Fund for purchase or call and retirement of Series A Debentures, sufficient to retire annually at least 3 1/2% of these $2,000,000 Debentures, payable in semi-annual instalments, first payment April 15, 1928, to be increased in necessary amount if additional Series A Debentures are issued, and to retire at least 50% of total Series A Debentures issued before maturity; or equal to 15% of preceding fiscal year's net profits (after interest, all taxes and preferred dividends); whichever is greater.

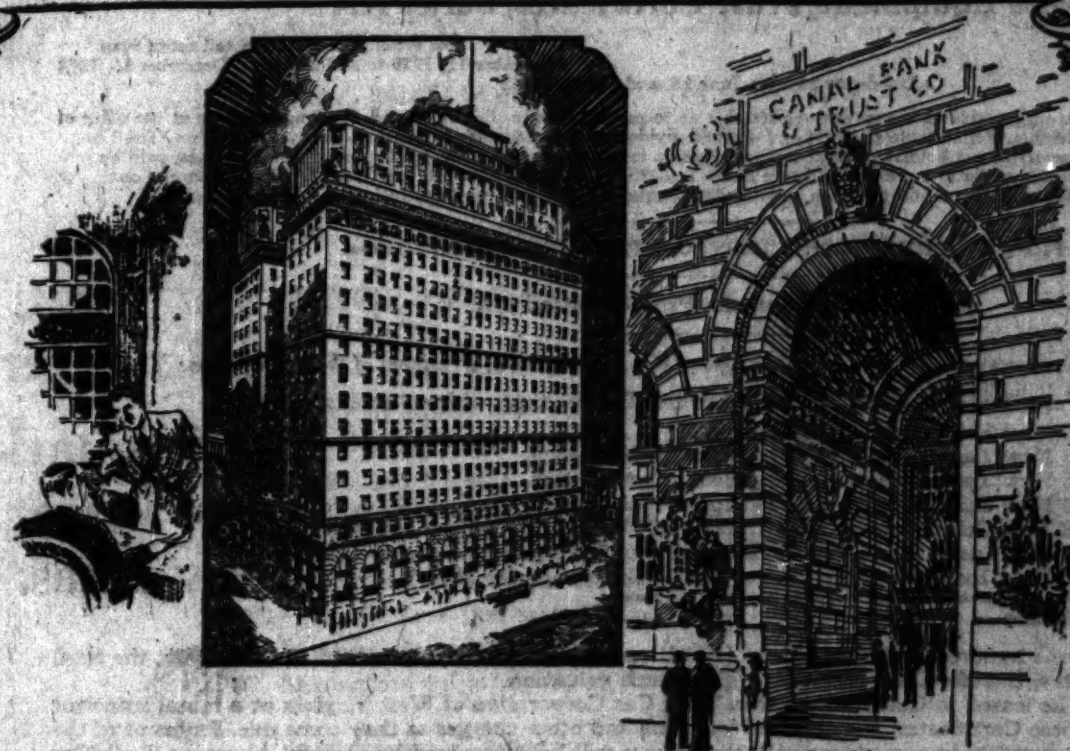

We Recommend these Debentures for Investment

Increased hog receipts sent prices down largely 10¢ to 15¢ after a week to the lower opening yesterday, with closing prices near the lowest point since 1924. Top fell to $9.05, within 1¢ of the year's bottom, with general average off 10¢ to 15¢. Arrivals at 55,000 were largest for Monday since last June, against 45,000 the previous Monday, a 2022 a year ago, and 43,000 two years ago.

A feature of the trade was the decided improvement in quality. Offerings carried more good quality 25¢ to 25¢ lb average. Prime 25¢ lb butchers topped the list at $9.05, although only a small proportion of total offerings passed $9.00, with bulk at $8.85 to $8.90.

As usual directly after the live stock show, there is a falling off of quality in the market cattle. Yesterday's offerings graded poorest for Monday in several months, which was responsible for the sharp decline of the bulk of prices, rather than any big loss in volume. The best available averaged 1.00¢ to 1.05¢ lb and sold at $17.50, against a top of $18.50 initial day of last week.

Bulk of cattle of best merit cleared at $11.50 to $12.00, against $11.75 to $12.00 a week earlier. Yearlings averaged 9¢ to 10¢, stopped at $17.50. Butcher stock moved fairly active on a firm price level. Calves broke 8¢ to $1.00, poorer qual-

COTTON PRICES SLUMP

Cotton prices were off the down slope yesterday, all day yesterday, and closed with only a small rally at issue on futures in Chicago of 35 to 40 points and in other markets of 25 to 30 points. Spots fell 30 points in New York to 19.50, and 25 points in New Orleans to 19.50. London was 19.50, and Liverpool, 19.50. Liverpool cottons of 11.50 to 12.00, with spot sales 4,000 bales.

An estimate of the crop of 12,100,000 bales by the American Cotton Association, although 645,000 bales under its previous estimate, was not the cause of the decline. The report of the American Cotton Association, however, that dry goods are being manufactured in the United States faster than they are being distributed. The combination of depressing factors was met by liberal selling by the south, acting on the purchase. Prices follow:

Only a few straggling loads of range were offered, numbering 800, against 1,000 the previous Monday and 500 a year ago.

Sheep Receipts Increased.

Sheep receipts at 25,000, the largest since the middle of October, lowered prices largely 10¢ to 15¢, with top high and heavy weights at $14.00 to $14.50. Lambs exceeding 90 lbs. were more liberal and moved slowly, several lots of 500 lb averages at $11.00 to $11.50, with 100 lb averages around $11.50. Age and yearling sheep shared in little of the weakness, heavy ewes at $7.00, with yearlings at $11.25 and 14 lb aged wethers at $5.00.

FIELD ESTATE BUYS LOOP FEE FOR $3,000,000

BY AL CHASE.

William M. Collins, president and owner of the Hendrick company, and chief stockholder in the New Great Northern Hotel company, has sold the land under the Great Northern hotel to the Marshall Field estate for a price reported to have been $3,000,000. Mr. Collins bought this fee on Aug. 1, 1927, from the Eugene Field land trust estate for an undivided consideration.

The new owner of the property has made a new ninety-nine year lease with the New Great Northern Hotel company, dated Dec. 1. The terms are not disclosed. According to Mr. Collins, the remodeling of the hotel will continue. The land fronts 100 feet on both Jackson and Quincy and 165 feet on South Dearborn street. Lawrence J. O'Toole is president of the New Great Northern Hotel company and Walter C. Hughes is secretary and general manager.

Edward Brovsky has sold the four buildings at 811-823 Galta avenue, containing forty-eight furnished apartments and four shops, to Dr. G. De Vere Miller of Dallas, Mich., at a reported $400,000. A 25,000 acre tract in the Westchester state was given as part payment. Jacobson, Merrick & Lister, Newell Merrick, and J. T. Merrick were attorneys.

Mrs. Jennie Goodwin and Mrs. Sara Tarnopol have sold the six flats at 511-513 Windsor avenue to John A. Graham for an undivided consideration. The lot is 60x120. B. A. Cahn of Baird & Warner represented all parties.

Bay's Langley Avenue Vista.

The twelve apartment building at the northeast corner of Langley avenue and East 1st street, lot 60x120, has been sold by L. and M. Harris to Lee H. Springer for a reported $75,000, subject to $10,000. The six flats at 783 Calumet were given as part payment at $25,000. Milas & Milas were brokers and Tage Jonsson was attorney.

The thirteen flat building at the northeast corner of Maryland and Arlington was sold by Louis Kleinberg to John Kalleher for a reported $47,000. Barry, McNichols & Co. were brokers.

The Railroads' Prospects—

LOOK forward and backward—this is exactly what you are enabled to do by the new railroad chart which we have prepared. Careful comparative figures have been compiled of the leading railroads in this chart which reviews the earnings record from 1923 on, also showing what results to expect for the full year 1927. It shows how each railroad's position compares with that of others in many important respects.

and analyzes the principal railroad holding companies, such as the Chesapeake Corporation. Every investor in railroad securities—either

New York.

Gentlemen:

Since we started our Educational Announcements to the public several years ago, we have been large users of the New York Evening Journal in black and white each year. But until the introduction of our new shaving cream, we had never used color.

It is gratifying to be able to tell you that the excellent effect of our color pages in the Saturday Home Journal, together with the work done in connection with our preliminary distribution of shaving cream and also the follow-up coverage obtained by your merchandising staff, have been vital factors in the splendid success achieved in the promotion of Squibb's Shaving Cream.

The knowledge that the New York Evening Journal and its organization are available for further promotion efforts is a source of great satisfaction to the house of E. R. Squibb & Sons.

Very truly yours,

Theodore Weicker

TRIRINE COOK BOOK

its fruits gives a flavor to a cake or pudding that can be obtained in no other way. The soft glaze of this type are excellent, and may dry candied orange peel and make it fine. A small amount is sufficient for a cake or pudding. In English practice peel is considered absolutely indispensable to fruit cake and puddings.

The perfection of home made fruit is due to its overplus of delicate flavors and these flavors can be secured when the fruit used is clean as a whistle. Especially true of the currants.

ARRAIGN BOMBER OF FIANCEE AT OTTAWA MONDAY

Reed Unmoved as Father Visits Him in Cell.

Ottawa, Ill., Dec. 5.—(AP)—La Salle county authorities announced today that Edward Reed, held on charges of bombing a public place and attempted murder of his school teacher sweetheart, Miss Iola Bradford, would be arraigned next Monday in Circuit court.

In the small cell that holds his son a grief-stricken father visited the boy, but remained with him only a few minutes. After saying a few words, the father left him some paper and envelopes, "so he could write home if he wanted anything."

The father made no attempt to free his son, held in bonds of $45,000, and gave no indication as to whether counsel would be employed by him. Reed showed no emotion when his father visited him.

At the same time, 40 miles away in the home of her sister, the victim of the explosion submitted to an examination by doctors, who said they thought she would recover. Miss Bradford was still in severe pain as a result of the explosion in the country school house, cause when she attempted to start a fire in the stove in which Reed later confessed he had concealed dynamite. Miss Bradford was about to become a mother at the time and had insisted that Reed marry her.

Yesterday, the day set for the couple's marriage found Reed brooding in silence in his cell, with his sweetheart barely conscious in her sister's home.

GERMANY TRIES TO STOP LOCKOUT OF 250,000 MEN

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

BERLIN, Dec. 5.—The German government is determined to prevent the lockout of the German metal industry. It has called in an arbitration meeting of employers and representatives of the workers at Essen Wednesday. The employers contend the cut in working hours and raise in pay demanded by the workers would cost $50,000,000 a year, while their total capital is only $200,000,000. The workers deny this.

For the last five months the employers have been gathering funds for a lockout. Every employer had to pay 5 marks ($1.25) a month for every man in his employ into the emergency fund of the employers' association. There is $4,000,000 in the fund now. The employers also conspired their contracts for the delivery of metal ore after Jan. 1.

The government believes the locking out of 250,000 men would lead to the closing down of many other factories, spelling unemployment for another 250,000.

CITY DOG POUND PUBLIC DISGRACE ALDERMEN TOLD

Chicago has more homeless, stray dogs roaming the streets than any other large city in the country, Ald. Thomas J. Bowler (41st) told the city council's finance committee yesterday. He proposed a $100,000 bond issue to build a home to care for them.

"Chicago's dog pound is a disgrace," he declared. "When I was a boy I walked barefooted to the pound to get my dog, and it is the same now as it was then."

Ald. Bowler headed a delegation of humane society officials, including Dr. H. J. Streiber, superintendent of the Anti-Cruelty society, and Mrs. Duane E. McKinn, chairman of the animal protection committee of the Woman's City club, who also spoke in behalf of the proposed bond issue.

Silver Dollar Wards Off Bullet in Shooting Affray

Michael Gerbach of Joliet was summoned to his front porch early yesterday morning by an unidentified visitor. The caller fired at Gerbach with a revolver. One bullet struck him on the hand. Another struck a silver dollar he had in a sweater pocket and was deflected. Gerbach believes that the dollar saved his life. The assailant escaped.

Don't ALWAYS blame your set

Possibly your vacuum tubes have been in use too long. Even the most perfect tube wears out with over-work. Don't use new tubes with old ones. For better results, replace them all with RCA Radiotrons—once a year at least.

HAROLD TEEN—THE REASON WHY GIRLS LEFT HOME

Small Details Can Make or Mar the Silhouette

The other day I was studying a woman whose figure was peculiarly "top heavy." Though dressed in a dark suit, she seemed at first a person of huge dimensions. But when the eyes traveled down to hips and feet she was quite normally shaped. Suddenly I realized what the trouble was. Her shoulders were naturally wide. About them she wore a fur scarf caught in front and extending beyond the edges of the shoulders. It was a beautiful fur piece, but had it been allowed to hang over one side instead of enveloping both shoulders, the width of that part of her anatomy would not have been so noticeable. Then, too, her hips were encased tightly in a narrow skirt which seemed to get narrower at the hem.

There are dress tricks that will help to reduce the athletic shoulders, and one of them is to watch the hips and not to let excessive tight banding there, or narrowness, emphasize the due to a lack of fresh air. Try to spend one hour in the open air each day, breathing deeply, that your lungs may be filled with the good fresh air. Have your bedroom well ventilated while you sleep. Include in your diet plenty of green vegetables and fruits.

Shoulder breadth. The shoulders always appear less broad when there is fullness about the hip line. And a skirt with ruffles or other fullness will reduce the importance of the shoulders.

Another mistake the woman under observation had made was to wear a tiny brimmed hat which made the shoulders stand out in even sharper relief. A brim, though it needn't be a large one, would have cut down on that broad line.

The perfect figure, though it has undergone certain changes in recent times, still calls for hips that are slightly wider than the shoulders. The feminine figure, that is. And as we are getting back into the feminine in dress, it is just as well to eliminate as many of the masculine appearing features as possible.

(Registered U. S. Patent Office.)

WOMAN'S AND MISSES' APRON.

Checked rayon crepe is the medium chosen for a slenderizing model for the busy housewife. The fronts are attached to the strings that slip through slashed openings, and tie in a youthful bow in the back. It can also be made with long sleeves. Radium silk, mercerized, printed foulard, chifon, and printed saten are effective materials for this design.

The pattern, 3066, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, and 46 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 2 1/2 yards of 40 inch material, with 1/4 yard of 20 inch contrasting.

An Unusual Dress for the Young Girl

by Corinne Lewis

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Smartness comes out in the wash frock. That has become an axiom among wealthy and fashionable American mothers cannot be disputed by the most revolutionary soul among us. Yes, it is unfortunately true that in our most exalted social circles the small girl must go from her cradle to her teens, from her nursery to her dance clad in one of those costly creations of lines, dotted Swiss, or other wash fabric decorated only with some guileless touch of handwork.

This state of affairs makes us who are not among the wealthy and fashionable exceedingly resigned to our lot. For if the poor little rich girl has to appear in her invertebrate wash fabrics, we others are not so limited. We may garb our children in something more individual. We may emulate the French in their habit of creating juvenile fashions from sophisticated fabrics and colors. We may, in fact, dress our small daughters charmingly.

The above party frock for the girl of from 10 to 14 propitiates both classes. For after they are 13 some of the poor little rich girls may be indulged in crepes and chiffons and before that time—well, just lots of us are doing it. At all events here is a delightfully unusual model carried out in two tones of chiffon. The frock proper is of pale green chiffon and the yoke with its extended panels is of white chiffon. These panels are all hand gathered and between them is a connecting curve of the white chiffon which is almost completely unwarped by the fastenings.

The result is that ovals are created between each of the panels and through these ovals runs a mesh of dark green velvet. The back is the same as the front.

Junior and his mother stopped in to see grandmother and Uncle Paul. The little fellow told them he had been down town all afternoon. Uncle Paul likes to tease Junior, so he said, "I suppose you bought a nice dress." "Dress nothing!" said the boy. "I got a suit." "Did you get a hat, too?" continued uncle. "The lad told him he had." "And did it have flowers on?" questioned uncle. "The boy did not answer, but was thinking hard, and when the next question came he was equal to it. "Did you get shoes, too?" asked uncle. "The child's come-back was: "Yes, I got some with steel buckles on," and that ended the teasing. C. S. C.

Adds a Note of Exquisite Style

to the Bad Weather Costume

UNCERTAIN days... flutters of wet snow that turns to slush... unexpected rains... yet the exactments of social and business life demand that the modern woman go about regardless... and always smartly dressed.

Up to now... footgear protection has been a discordant note. Distilled by women... avoided by many.

But Shuglov has changed the style... and smart women have accepted it. You no longer worry, either of weather or style, for the trim foot that wears Shuglov is clad with an eye to both.

Shuglov is new... striking... colorful. It has none of the bulk and weight of old methods. Utmost protection is assured without them. The same artistry that has brought exquisite beauty to shoes now brings this same charm to footgear protection.

Slip into a pair. Note their comfort... their slenderizing effect on the ankle... their glove-like fit. You cannot resist the charm of this new accessory... once you have seen it.

$5.00 a Pair
Shuglov is made of lightest rubber... washable, inside and out. They may be worn on or off in a jiffy. The trim decorative top is worn up or down with equal discretion.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY RALPH JOY BROWN.

A Heavy Burden.

"I have been left alone with my two babies, and, although I am working, I find it hard to provide them with the things they need. One baby has been sick. The doctor tells me unless I can get warm clothing for her—she is eight months old—and for my boy, 2, I cannot expect them to remain well. Do you think your readers would have anything for them or any clothing for me? I wear size 36 or 38."

When the business of providing for a family falls upon the shoulders of the mother it is not an easy task. This woman staying up nights with her sick baby and working all day to buy the food and medicine they need surely needs your assistance. Won't you help her?
